1 Pursuant to the Indiana Supreme Court Case
2 20S-MS-236 signed March 31, 2020, PROFESSOR
3 DIANNA T. KENNY, having been first duly sworn to 4 tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but 5 the truth relating to said matter, was examined
6 and testified as follows:
7 DIRECT EXAMINATION,
8 QUESTIONS BY GAVIN M. ROSE:
9 Q Good morning, Doctor. How are you today?
10 A I'm fine. Thanks.
11 Q Can you state your name for the record, please.
12 A It's Dianna Theadora Kenny.
13 Q That's Dianna with two Ns; correct?
14 A Yes, and Theadora with an O, not an A, so
15 T-h-e-a-d-o-r-a, and Kenny there's no E,
16 K-e-n-n-y.
17 Q And I heard you before we went on the record say
18 that you would prefer to be addressed as Dianna;
19 is that correct?
20 A That's fine, yeah.
21 Q If I fall into old habits, do you prefer doctor
22 or professor?
23 A Professor.
24 Q Dianna, have you ever had your deposition taken
25 before?

1 A Not in America, no.
2 Q Have you in Australia?
3 A Yes. Well, I mean, you don't call them -- it's 4 not exactly the same process, but yes.
5 Q You've been asked questions under oath for 6 purposes of a court case?
7 A That's right, yes.
8 Q I, obviously, know nothing about the rules of 9 depositions or their equivalent in Australia, so
10 I will go over the rules real quick with you.
11 You understand that this is a formal asking and 12 answering of questions under oath; correct?
13 A Yes.
14 Q Okay. The court reporter has asked me to remind
15 you, which I would have done anyway, that 16 because she is writing down everything that we
17 say it is very important that you wait until I
18 finish my question before providing your answer.
19 A Okay.
20 Q And I will try to give you the exact same
21 courtesy; is that fair?
22 A Yes, it is. Could I get you to sit back a
23 fraction because I can only see that much of 24 your face?
25 Q I'm sorry. Is this better?

Page 6

1 A That's better, yes.
2 Q Can you still hear me okay?
3 A Yes, I can.
4 Q Okay. We had an issue with Zoom not long ago
5 where I had it set to the wrong microphone so
6 I'm used to leaning over something and I don't 7 have to now that it's set correctly, so I
8 apologize.
9 A Thank you.
10 Q The court reporter has also asked me to remind 11 you that because of the distance between you and 12 us there very well may be a lag time in the 13 video or in our communication, so, for that 14 reason, too, it's important for you to wait
15 until I finish to begin your answer, okay?
16 A Okay.
17 Q In other depositions in this case we have been 18 taking a short break every hour or so. My plan,
19 if everybody is tolerating it, is to go a little 20 longer than that, at least for the beginning,
21 simply because we're already in the evening
22 hours right now, but if at any time you feel 23 like you need a break to stretch your legs, get 24 a drink of water, use the restroom, please,
25 speak up and we can certainly make that happen.

1 Is that okay?
2 A I'm perfectly happy to go for -- I'm used to
3 doing long stretches. I have a long attention
4 span. I know it's going to get very late over
5 there, so it's fine with me to just, yeah,
6 extend those breaks.
7 Q Well, I have a short attention span and horrible
8 knees so, please, forgive me if I'm the one that 9 needs a break.
10 A Okay.
11 Q Do you have any questions about the process?
12 A No.
13 Q Okay. What did you do to prepare for today's 14 deposition?
15 MR. FISHER: I'm going to object to the
16 extent it calls for communication with counsel.
17 Q Without telling me the content of anything you
18 spoke with your attorneys about today's 19 happenings, did you speak with your attorneys in 20 advance of today's deposition?
21 A Yes.
22 Q And when did you speak with them?
23 A Over the course of the last month. Well,
24 speaking means communicating, documents, you
25 know, going through what was required in my

1 report, things like that.
2 Q Did you have a meeting or conversations
3 specifically for the purpose of preparing you
4 for today's deposition?
5 A A brief meeting.
6 Q When did that take place?
7 A I think that was last Thursday morning, my time.
8 Q Of course. Did you speak with anyone other than 9 the attorneys for Indiana to prepare for today's 10 deposition?
11 A No.
12 Q Did you review any documents in advance of 13 today's deposition?
14 A Yes.
15 Q Which documents did you review?
16 A The primary documents that I reviewed are listed
17 on the front of my declaration. Do you want me
18 to go through them? You'll have them in front
19 of you, but I have them here if you need them.
20 Q That was going to be my next question. Do you
21 have any documents in front of you that you plan
22 on referencing during the deposition?
23 A I have my declaration.
24 Q Okay. Is that the only document you have in 25 front of you?

1 A I was advised that that was the only document I
2 was permitted.
3 Q That's perfectly fine with me. I just want to 4 make sure.
5 The declaration that you have in front of 6 you, does it have the attached exhibits, I think
7 A through E?
8 A Yes, A through E. The ones you just sent like 9 10 minutes ago?
10 Q The declaration that your attorneys provided to 11 us have, I think, five attachments. The first 12 was your CV and then the other four were medical 13 records pertaining to each of the plaintiffs.
14 Do you have those attachments in front of you?
15 A No, I don't, no.
16 Q And it sounds like you have received copies of 17 several exhibits that I e-mailed to your 18 attorneys a short while ago?
19 A Yes, I received them about three minutes before
20 this call.
21 Q Okay. And is anyone else in the room with you?
22 A No.
23 Q And are you physically located in your home?
24 A Yes, in my office, yes.
25 Q Your home office?

1 A My home office, yes.
2 Q And you said this while we were off the record,
3 but that's in Sydney, New South Wales,
4 Australia?
5 A That's right.
6 Q While we're talking today, Doctor, I have
7 several exhibits that I am going to show you.
8 Unlike the other attorneys in this case, I have 9 decided to go out on a limb and explain to the 10 court reporter that I will try to use the 11 share-screen function to show them myself.
12 Because of how that works, you will only be able 13 to see one page or part of one page on your 14 computer. I promise I'm not trying to trick
15 you. If you need me to scroll down or anything
16 like that, please, just let me know and I'm more
17 than happy to do so. Is that fair?
18 A Yes, that's fine.
19 Q You will also notice as we go through some of 20 them that I have highlighted portions of the 21 exhibits. The only reason for doing so -- and I
22 freely admit that that was me that did so -- is 23 to try to direct my eyesight so that I don't
24 waste your time as I try to find what I'm 25 looking for, but that's why some portions will

1 be highlighted.
2 MR. FISHER: Gavin, can I interject for a
3 second?
4 MR. ROSE: Of course.
5 MR. FISHER: To the extent that she needs
6 full context for any of those documents, do you
7 have an objection if she opens the full document
8 that she received by e-mail?
9 MR. ROSE: Of course not.
10 Q Okay, Doctor, I'm going to pull up using the 11 share-screen function what I have marked as 12 Exhibit 1. And do you see that in front of you 13 right now?
14 A Yes.
15 Q And I can scroll down if you need for me to;
16 although, I can tell you that it's 14 pages
17 long. I assume you recognize this as your 18 curriculum vitae?
19 A Yes.
20 Q And this is the version that your attorneys
21 provided to us just over the weekend. I assume 22 that it's still current; is that correct?
23 A Yes, that's correct.
24 Q Okay. And you're currently employed, I
25 understand?

Page 12

1 A Yes.
2 Q And it looks from your CV like you're employed
3 as a consultant presently?
4 A That's right.
5 Q And that's for a business called DK Consulting?
6 A Yes.
7 Q And I assume the DK is you?
8 A Yes.
9 Q Are you the -- I'm sorry, I talked over you.
10 A That's okay. I just said it's not very 11 original. No symbolism in that at all, yeah.
12 Q Are you the only employee of DK Consulting?
13 A I have an assistant, like an administrative 14 assistant.
15 Q Okay. Is that the only other employee?
16 A Yes.
17 Q And has this been your only employment since 18 2019?
19 A Yes.
20 Q And by "since 2019," I mean since you retired
21 from being a professor.
22 A That's right, yes.
23 Q Do you currently have any patient care
24 responsibility?
25 A I'm in full-time private practice, so yeah.

1 Q Is that through DK Consulting or just separate?
2 A No, no, that's through DK Consulting.
3 Q Okay. And I assume that you provide
4 psychotherapy to your patients?
5 A Yes, I provide psychotherapy; I provide marriage
6 and family therapy; I do child and adolescent
7 assessments; and I do mediation and family
8 dispute resolution.
9 Q When you do child and adolescent assessments, is 10 that for anyone in particular?
11 A Well, in recent times, it's children being 12 brought for gender dysphoria, so a large part of 13 my practice currently are children and families
14 with a young person who is declaring themselves
15 transgender.
16 Q And when you say that you work full time in 17 private practice, is that more or less 40 hours
18 a week that you see patients?
19 A It's more like 60 hours a week.
20 Q And approximately what percentage of that would 21 you say are for patients who have identified
22 themselves as transgender?
23 A I'd say two-thirds, but they're not all patient
24 contacts, the 60 hours, because I include
25 preparing depositions for Indiana among the

1 hours that I spend working. So, in my clinical 2 hours, I would say at the moment two-thirds.
3 Q And, I'm sorry, that was just a bad question
4 then. About how many hours each week are you
5 working as a clinician?
6 A About 30.
7 Q Okay. So about 20 hours or so each week you're 8 treating or assessing patients for gender
9 dysphoria?
10 A Yes.
11 Q And are all the patients with gender dysphoria
12 that you see minors?
13 A Yes, I specialize in minors.
14 Q I'll come back to your clinical practice in just 15 a little bit. It looks from your CV like you
16 served as a professor at the University of 17 Sydney in various capacities from 1988 through 18 2019. Is that accurate?
19 A That is.
20 Q Your last position was as an honorary professor
21 of psychology and a professor of music?
22 A Yes.
23 Q I'm just curious, but why music?
24 A Sorry?
25 Q I said I'm just curious, but why music?

1 A Why music? It's a very long story and it's
2 probably for another time, but I, you know --
3 Q Let me ask you this because I couldn't tell from 4 your CV. Is it teaching music or is it teaching
5 the psychology of music or performance anxiety
6 or what have you?
7 A I established a research center at the Sydney
8 Conservatorium of Music which is a faculty of 9 the University of Sydney. So, when the Sydney
10 Conservatorium of Music amalgamated with the 11 university, it was a freestanding tertiary
12 institution, and then there was a lot of 13 legislative changes to reduce the number of 14 tertiary institutions and the Sydney
15 Conservatorium amalgamated with Sydney
16 University and became a faculty, but we were a 17 research-led university and it didn't have any 18 research as a tertiary institution. It was 19 primarily concerned with training young
20 musicians.
21 And they were looking for somebody who had 22 research expertise and who knew about music and 23 how the university structures ran, applying for 24 research grants, setting up a research
25 laboratory, so the magic finger was pointed at

1 me. And, for those years, I had two
2 professorships that I had to juggle and get this
3 search established. So I didn't do any
4 undergraduate lecturing in that position. It
5 was all as a director of research center and I
6 was primarily supervising Ph.D. students but 7 also doing a lot of research, applying for 8 grants, writing papers, and so forth, yeah.
9 Q Thank you. In your role as a professor of 10 psychology or I guess before that a lecturer in 11 psychology, were there specific subjects that 12 you taught?
13 A Yes, I was specifically hired for my expertise
14 in developmental psychology and so I was 15 primarily responsible for both the undergraduate 16 and the postgraduate teaching in subjects like 17 infant and child psychology, developmental 18 psychology, developmental psychopathology. What 19 else? Current issues in adolescent psychology, 20 all those kinds of subjects, child and 21 adolescent assessment.
22 Q Of the psychology courses that you taught, did
23 any of them concern treating gender dysphoria or 24 providing gender-affirmative care?
25 A There was no such thing when I started at the

1 university and there were no courses anywhere in
2 Australia because the incidence and prevalence
3 of that condition was estimated to be minutely
4 small and we, therefore, focused on the much
5 more prevalent conditions that children present
6 with in childhood. So it wasn't on the radar.
7 Let me put it that way.
8 Q Did you teach any courses about that subject
9 toward the end of your career with the 10 University of Sydney?
11 A No. Towards the end of my career as a
12 professor, I was primarily supervising Ph.D.
13 students and executing research grants,
14 conducting research, and generally organizing
15 the research program that I've described before.
16 Q Have you taken any courses pertaining to gender
17 dysphoria?
18 A Well, there aren't any formal courses even now
19 that I'm aware of in Australia and I would have 20 to vet them very carefully before I book any of 21 those courses because Australia has 22 unquestioningly, and without due thought and 23 consideration, adopted what we call here as 24 gender ideology and as soon as I see the 25 contents of the description of gender ideology,

1 I become, you know, quite twitchy and disturbed
2 by the scientifically fallacious information
3 that's being propagated, particularly in our
4 entrance primary and secondary schools.
5 So I have engaged in a very detailed
6 undertaking to educate myself based on my 7 thorough training and many, many years of 8 clinical experience developing my own model and 9 my own clinical practice approach to these young
10 people.
11 Q In the middle of your answer there you used the 12 phrase "what we call here as gender ideology," 13 and I'm just curious who "we" is in that 14 sentence.
15 A Well, it's generally referred to in that way in 16 the media and media who are somewhat less than 17 supportive of things like gender-affirming care,
18 for example, and all the new lexicon, the new 19 terminology, you know, that's being propagated
20 by the machinery of the trans advocates.
21 Q Okay. And I asked if you had taken any courses
22 pertaining to gender dysphoria and maybe I
23 didn't ask the question in the right way. Other 24 than your personal investigation and review of 25 the literature and certain materials, do you

1 have any professional training specific to
2 gender dysphoria or its treatment?
3 A As I explained, there are no such courses.
4 People have just adopted practices from
5 overseas. And, I mean, there are courses within 6 courses, so, for example, in cultural studies
7 there's a subcourse called gender and sexuality
8 and within that course they would cover the 9 discourses, the current discourses, but it's 10 more in the area of sociology or critical
11 studies. And my field is psychology so there's 12 not really any intersection unless I choose to 13 read some literature in that field, but there's 14 no such discrete course as gender-affirming
15 care.
16 Q Okay. During your time as a professor for, if 17 I'm doing the math right, 30, 31 years, did you
18 have patient care responsibilities at the same
19 time?
20 A Yes, I had rights to private practice throughout
21 my academic career.
22 Q And about how many hours each week were you
23 seeing patients? And I'm sure --
24 A About 10.
25 Q Okay. And was that more or less consistent

1 throughout your time teaching?
2 A Yeah. I mean, it varied according to, you know,
3 circumstances, but, on average, I would say that
4 would be about right.
5 Q So, prior to your time in private practice
6 following your tenure with the University of 7 Sydney, were any of the patients that you saw
8 diagnosed with gender dysphoria?
9 A Do you mean when I was at the university?
10 Q Yes. I'm sorry.
11 A No. I only kind of became involved in about 12 2019 when a colleague of mine, who is an
13 adolescent psychiatrist, called me and said a
14 few psychiatrists are getting referrals of these 15 young children who are gender dysphoric and 16 wanting to transgender and none of them had very 17 much experience with child and adolescent
18 psychology or psychiatry. And he asked me if I
19 would review a couple of cases that he had been 20 referred and have a case conference, a peer
21 consultation. And it was from that point that I
22 started to take on cases myself and to really
23 intensively educate myself about what was going 24 on and what was happening in this field, so it's 25 really been for the last coming into five years.

1 Q And do you remember what time of the year in
2 2019 you left the University of Sydney?
3 A July.
4 Q So would it be after that time that you began
5 looking into gender dysphoria?
6 A Yes.
7 Q Okay. And then it looks from your CV like from 8 '86 through '87 you were a psychologist in 9 private practice?
10 A Yes, I was.
11 Q During this time did you see or treat any 12 patients with gender dysphoria?
13 A No. I might say that they didn't exist in 14 Australia in 1986/'87.
15 Q Okay. Then I want to, if it's okay, just 16 briefly focus on your clinical experience after 17 you left the University of Sydney where you've 18 been seeing patients and looking into gender
19 dysphoria. Is that okay?
20 A Yeah.
21 Q Approximately how many patients with gender
22 dysphoria or gender identity issues did you see
23 over this period or have you seen over this 24 period?

1 form of that question. It's unclear whether
2 those are two separate categories or you're
3 conflating them together?
4 MR. ROSE: That's a perfectly fair
5 objection and if Tom had not called me, I would
6 have rephrased it myself.
7 Q How many patients diagnosed with gender
8 dysphoria have you seen since you left the 9 University of Sydney, more or less?
10 A Well, it depends on whether you're talking about 11 seeing them for assessment or seeing them for 12 therapy. If I just counted the young people
13 that I had seen for assessment, it would be in 14 the vicinity of 150 to 180, and, of those, I 15 would have taken probably 50 to 60 into 16 long-term therapy.
17 Q And pretend I know almost nothing about the 18 practice of psychology, but what is, I guess,
19 the assessment? A patient gets referred to you
20 from some source and what happens then when 21 you're assessing them?
22 A Well, I always meet with the parents first and I
23 get a full developmental history because there's 24 a great deal of dispute about onset and I want
25 to get a very clear picture from the parents

1 about when their child first expressed ideas
2 about being transgender and so forth. So I do a
3 very careful historical overview of their 4 developmental milestones. I also want to
5 understand how they're performing at school. I
6 also want to review any of the previous 7 assessments that they've had for intellectual
8 ability, any intellectual disabilities, learning
9 disabilities, have they had an assessment for 10 autism spectrum disorder, ADHD, have they ever
11 been diagnosed with depression and anxiety, are 12 they on any medications. So that is quite an 13 extended interview with the parents.
14 And during that time I'm also assessing the 15 marital and parental dynamic so I'm looking for 16 power imbalances in the marital diet, I'm 17 looking for whether there's a lack of respectful
18 interactions between the parents, and I'm also 19 looking for whether there's any disagreement
20 about how they should proceed with their child.
21 And quite often you'll see one parent who is 22 more supportive of allowing the transition and 23 another parent who is not approving. So all of 24 these things are extremely important.
25 And then I will see the child on his or her

1 own and that might go from one to three sessions
2 depending on what I'm exploring with the child
3 and what I think is happening in terms of this 4 child's life.
5 After that assessment of the child, I meet
6 again with the parents and I give them an
7 overview of my opinion and how we should proceed
8 or how I recommend that the family proceed.
9 Q Just a couple of questions about that.
10 MR. FISHER: Gavin, I'm sorry to interrupt
11 you. I just want to alert you. Because you're 12 sharing your screen, when people are sending you
13 text messages they're popping up on my screen.
14 I'm doing my best to ignore them and not look at 15 them, but I noticed at least one of them was 16 from Chase so I thought I'd better alert you
17 because probably you don't want me to see those.
18 MR. ROSE: I appreciate that. Thank you.
19 Can we go off the record for just a second?
20 (A discussion was held off the record.)
21 QUESTIONS BY GAVIN M. ROSE:
22 Q Okay. Doctor, you just explained the assessment
23 process when you see a patient for the first 24 time for gender dysphoria, and my question to 25 you is going to be whether there is an age range

1 of the children that you assess.
2 A I've seen children as young as three to four and
3 I usually -- I have seen some young adults in 4 their 20s, but the majority are under 18 years
5 of age or around. You know, I've seen quite a
6 few like 17, 18-year-olds.
7 Q Would you say the majority are in their 8 adolescence?
9 A Yes, I would.
10 Q Approximately how many children preadolescence
11 have you assessed for gender dysphoria?
12 A I think it would be less than a quarter of the 13 presentations.
14 Q So, if I'm doing the math, maybe 30-ish?
15 A Yeah. I mean, it depends on whether you count
16 the peripubertal children, you know, the 11 and 17 12-year-olds because some children are reaching
18 puberty at younger than average ages. So a 19 child might be pubertal at 10 and so it would be 20 a question of whether you would count that child
21 as a child or as an emerging adolescent, so it
22 gets a little bit gray if you wanted to strictly
23 categorize them. The majority, I would say,
24 would be between 10 and 18.
25 Q Okay. And of the 150 to 180 patients you've

1 assessed, how do you decide which ones will
2 become the 50 or 60 that you accept for
3 longer-term treatment?
4 A I make an assessment about whether the young
5 person is capable of entering into a
6 psychotherapeutic process. That's one
7 criterion.
8 Another is whether it is more (inaudible)
9 to work directly with the parents and, quite 10 often, I will choose to do that in the first
11 instance. So I will meet with the parents more
12 regularly than the child and I will -- I suppose
13 the word is coach, you know, coach them about 14 parenting and how to manage, you know, the 15 child's behavior generally and how to manage the 16 statements or, you know, gender sort of related
17 issues, so that's another way that I work.
18 And, in some cases, I'll work with the 19 family, usually the young person and the parents
20 together. In most cases I don't include
21 siblings. If I do do family therapy, it's just 22 with the identified child.
23 So I have a very broad perspective on the 24 kinds of interventions that I undertake and 25 they're based on very careful assessment of the

1 dynamics of the family, the capacity to engage
2 in particular psychotherapeutic processes, and
3 that involves a capacity for insight and
4 reflective function. And, you know, if not, I
5 step it down to psychoeducation, behavioral
6 management. But I do find that an open
7 exploratory psychodynamic/psychotherapy approach
8 is more effective if it's suitable for that
9 young person and the family.
10 Q And you began that answering by saying that one
11 of the things you look at in determining whether 12 to accept a patient for longer-term treatment is 13 whether they're capable of entering into the 14 psychotherapeutic relationship or possibly the 15 process. What type of patient is not capable of 16 doing that?
17 A Well, you have to be very careful about young 18 people with autism spectrum disorder. In the 19 early days and even now, I did take some of 20 those into individual therapy because they were 21 extremely distressed young people. And, because 22 of their cognitive rigidity, cognitive 23 immaturity, their literal interpretation of the 24 world, and some of them display quite 25 obsessional features in both their behavior and

1 their thinking, you come to a point where it
2 does not seem to be the best intervention for
3 that type of young person and so I seek other
4 methods, usually primarily working intensively
5 with the parents.
6 Q And when you assess a patient are you attempting 7 to -- are they coming to you with a diagnosis or 8 are you attempting to diagnose them?
9 A I'm not primarily focused -- I presume you're 10 meaning a diagnosis of gender dysphoria?
11 Q Sure.
12 A Yeah. The parent will usually tell me in the 13 first assessment interview what their child is 14 saying and doing with respect to gender and what 15 their demands are and expectations. When I see
16 the child, I'll ask them why they've come to see 17 me, what is their understanding of why they've 18 visited with me today, and I usually take the 19 assessment from that point. And you would be 20 amazed at how many of them don't start with 21 gender.
22 Q How many minor patients have you diagnosed with 23 gender dysphoria, if any?
24 A I think one.
25 Q And how old was that patient?

1 A Four.
2 Q And when you diagnosed that patient with gender
3 dysphoria, what diagnostic criteria did you use?
4 A Well, I mean, the only acceptable one in current 5 situation is DSM-5 that you will see from my 6 declaration that I have great concerns about the 7 DSM-5 as do a large number of my colleagues.
8 Q Are those the criteria that you used in
9 diagnosing that one patient, though?
10 A I look at those criteria, but I primarily am
11 concerned with the behavior of the child.
12 Q What, if any, criteria other than the DSM-5 did
13 you consult in diagnosing that patient?
14 A I look at their general adaptation, whether 15 they're meeting developmental milestones,
16 whether they're capable of expressing an 17 independent idea about themselves because quite 18 often there are subtle communication dynamics
19 happening between parents and children, and, you
20 know, I mean, of course, the simplest one is 21 that mother speaks for the child and that's why
22 it's important to spend some time with the child
23 alone. And, often, because I do a lot of work
24 for the family court in Australia and for the 25 Office of the Department of Public Prosecutions

1 where there are allegations of child sexual
2 abuse, they're really, really, you know, very 3 damaging custody disputes and so on.
4 Q I'm sorry for interrupting, but I was going to 5 ask: Did the tools or criteria that you used in 6 addition to the DSM-5, do they come from any 7 publication? Are they written down anywhere?
8 A Well, they come from the development psychology
9 literature and also the literature on dynamic
10 psychotherapy.
11 Q But there's no specific one page, two-page list
12 of criteria that you can point me to for these?
13 A Well, I have been a coauthor of two clinical 14 guides for the management of children with 15 gender dysphoria. One of them was an
16 international consortium that I contributed a
17 very significant portion of that document. I've 18 also contributed in a major way to the clinical 19 guide published by the National Association of 20 Practicing Psychiatrists, and I've also written
21 some therapeutic treatment guides for clinicians
22 that I've presented at meetings and conferences
23 for consideration.
24 Q You described this one patient that you
25 diagnosed with gender dysphoria. Were any of

1 the other patients that you saw for gender
2 dysphoria diagnosed with gender dysphoria by
3 another professional?
4 A By and large, my practice involves what's called
5 tertiary referral, so a lot of these young
6 people come to me when the parents have been
7 horrified by what's been going on in the gender
8 clinics.
9 So one of the typical ways that it happens
10 is that the child declares him or herself
11 transgender. The mother takes the child to the 12 general practitioner. That's the family
13 treating doctor. The doctors will then refer
14 these children to either gender-affirming
15 (inaudible) pediatricians or to the gender
16 clinics. And once you're on that, as the 17 Swedish call it, the "trans train," there's 18 almost only one stop and that's transition.
19 And, so, when the parents go to these 20 establishments, they're actually excluded from 21 the process. They're being made to wait
22 outside. If the parent wants to contribute
23 their perceptions of their child and their
24 worries about their child and maybe transition
25 isn't the right thing for them, they're taken

1 off and told that they're the problem and to get
2 out of the child's way. And, you know, as soon
3 as this child starts the transition process, all
4 of these serious psychological problems up to 5 and including self harm and school refusal and,
6 you know, the old standards of depression and
7 anxiety, they're all going to magically
8 disappear if you start pumping the child with 9 puberty blockers and cross-sex hormones.
10 Q I'm sorry, Doctor.
11 A I'll finish my answer.
12 Q I'm sorry, Doctor. You've actually gone well
13 beyond the question that I've asked so I'd like 14 to turn back to the question that I asked which 15 is: Other than the one patient that you
16 diagnosed with gender dysphoria, had any of the 17 other patients that you've seen for gender 18 dysphoria been diagnosed with that condition by 19 some other professional?
20 A Well, I was about to finish my answer when you
21 cut me off. So the answer is yes and I'm 22 telling you the root by which they've been 23 diagnosed after maybe one half-hour session by 24 the gender clinic.
25 Q And the reason I ask that question is I'm trying

1 to hone down on, I guess, whether you believe
2 that you have only had one patient with an
3 accurate diagnosis of gender dysphoria or 4 whether you believe you've had a number of 5 patients with an accurate diagnosis of gender
6 dysphoria.
7 A Well, I was attempting to answer that question
8 in your previous question which is I am a
9 tertiary referral source. So the parents who 10 become horrified at what's going on at the 11 gender clinics are the people who are most 12 likely to come to see me so they're already 13 convinced that the diagnosis of gender dysphoria
14 is inaccurate and inappropriate for their child,
15 and, so, that would be the patient group that I
16 see. I'm not seeing the captured parents.
17 They're staying at the gender clinics.
18 Q Okay. And, other than that one patient that you
19 diagnosed with gender dysphoria, did you agree
20 with the assessment of the parents that every 21 other patient you saw for gender dysphoria had 22 been inaccurately or inappropriately diagnosed
23 with that condition?
24 A I don't make definitive statements of that kind
25 until I've worked with the parents and with the

1 child. It's an open question that has to be
2 explored very carefully as well as all of the 3 other comorbid presentations that the child
4 usually presents with. I can tell you one thing
5 for sure and that is I haven't seen a child
6 without a comorbid presentation who comes
7 telling me that they're gender dysphoric, so
8 there's usually serious pathology in the child
9 and the family.

10 Q Have any patients come to you with a diagnosis
11 of gender dysphoria where your assessment and 12 prolonged treatment, if it goes that way,
13 confirms the diagnosis?

14 A I don't confirm the diagnosis.

15 Q Okay. You keep medical records for each of your 16 patients; is that correct?

17 A Of course.

18 Q And on the medical records that you keep, do you
19 have a list of diagnoses for which the patients
20 have presented or been confirmed? Do you have a
21 list of diagnoses for each patient?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And how many patients of the 50 or 60 that 24 you've accepted into long-term treatment do your 25 records reflect a diagnosis of gender dysphoria?

1 A Zero.

2 Q And what about the one person that you diagnosed
3 with gender dysphoria?

4 A I didn't make a definitive statement. I said it
5 was likely a diagnosis that needed to be 6 considered seriously, but because of the child's 7 age and, you know, cognitive immaturity, I
8 suggested that the parents engage in active
9 watchful waiting for a significant period of 10 time before taking any action.

11 Q And do you continue to see that patient?

12 A I see the parents. I don't see the patient at 13 this point.

14 Q Have you ever seen a patient who was taking 15 either puberty blockers or gender-affirming
16 hormones?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And were those subsequently discontinued?

19 A No. Oh, well, I mean, one has to look at each
20 case individually, but there's only a small
21 number that I'm seeing who had already started
22 that process and, to date, they have not 23 discontinued and I'm not pressuring them to 24 discontinue. You know, these young people on 25 cross-sex hormones around 16, 17, 18, so I

1 engage in an exploratory process with them, but,
2 once they do start taking the cross-sex
3 hormones, the landscape changes because these
4 medications, of course, affect the total body
5 and the way they think about themselves and 6 their neurological as well as physical
7 functioning.

8 Q And, please, correct me if I'm wrong because I
9 might have just misheard a word. Did you say
10 that you've only seen one patient taking
11 hormones?

12 A No, I've seen three or four.

13 Q Okay. And were those three or four patients
14 patients that you simply assessed or were they 15 accepted into longer-term treatment?

16 A I have one in long-term treatment. I've been 17 seeing him for two years, and when I started to 18 see him he wasn't taking hormones. The others
19 have turned 18 during their therapy and decided
20 that they were going to proceed to cross-sex
21 hormones. And, yeah, I don't know if that 22 answers your question.

23 Q It does. Thank you. And I didn't ask it right
24 the first time and I apologize for that, but 25 same questions about puberty blockers. How many

1 patients have you seen who are taking puberty
2 blockers?

3 A Probably not many, two or three.

4 Q And, again, same question. Were those patients
5 that you accepted into longer-term treatment?

6 A Well, I did attempt to, yes.

7 Q Attempt but did not ultimately?

8 A Well, when the decision was made, you know, that 9 puberty blockers were the magic bullet, that 10 kind of foreclosed any further discussion.

11 Q Why did it foreclose any further discussion?

12 A Well, they found the magic solution.

13 Q A short while ago in talking about the one
14 patient who you diagnosed with at least likely 15 gender dysphoria, you said that you told the 16 parents to wait and evaluate for I think you
17 said a considerable amount of time. Does that 18 sound right?

19 A Yes.

20 Q How long do you consider to be a considerable 21 amount of time?

22 A It varies with different patients, but I was 23 very mindful if I communicated this to the 24 parents that one of the only robust studies that 25 looked at childhood onset of gender dysphoria

1 and followed them for 20 years, 88% of them
2 desisted by like adulthood and I think it was
3 60% identified as gay young men. And I
4 communicated that developmental trajectory to 5 the parents and said that they needed to 6 exercise extreme caution in allowing the child
7 to follow his natural developmental trajectory
8 and that any social transition or prescription
9 of puberty blockade would derail that
10 developmental trajectory.
11 Q And, I'm sorry, how are you defining social
12 transition?
13 A Where the child changes his or her names or 14 pronouns. They start to dress in the 15 stereotypically style of the opposite sex where 16 they grow their hair long or cut their hair
17 short, that kind of thing.
18 Q When you have a patient that presents to you as 19 transgender, do you use particular pronouns in 20 referring to that person?
21 A I avoid pronouns altogether because I'm having 22 first person conversation with a young person
23 and I do not use --
24 Q Well, you talk about the patient with their 25 parents, though; right?

Page 39

1 A Not often, no. I usually separate the
2 consultations with parents and children.
3 Q I'm so sorry for the misunderstanding, Doctor.
4 I did not mean you talk about the patient with 5 the parents in the same room. I meant you have 6 a separate conversation with the parents about
7 the patient; correct?
8 A Yes.
9 Q And when you're speaking to the parent do you
10 use pronouns to refer to the child?
11 A I follow the parent and, in the majority of the 12 cases that I see, the parent is insisting on the 13 child's birth name and natal pronouns.
14 Q Are there cases where the parent has referred to 15 their child using their non-natal pronouns?
16 A Yes, I had one last night and, I mean, it wasn't 17 her first session. I've seen her before and she 18 is now using her daughter's preferred name and 19 masculine pronouns. And I have discussed that 20 with her, you know, why is she doing that and 21 how does she think it's helping her child, and I
22 then seek permission from the parent to call the 23 child by his or her given name and pronouns.
24 Q And I assume your medical records use the sex
25 the child was assigned at birth when they have

1 to?
2 A Yes. I need to do that for clinical purposes
3 because I need to get a picture in my own mind,
4 a template of this child, and quite often I have 5 to do file reviews and case reviews and you will 6 notice in my declaration that I have referred to 7 these four young people using pronouns of their 8 natal sex and their given name except in one
9 case where the given name has been expunged
10 completely, but that is my clinical practice.
11 Q Okay. Doctor, in your CV, which should still be 12 in front of you, Page 2 lists your membership in 13 various professional organizations; is that 14 correct?
15 A Yeah.
16 Q And I assume you remain a member of each of the 17 organizations you list here?
18 A No, I said that I -- well, in my CV, obviously,
19 it doesn't say that, but somewhere I said, I
20 think it was in the bio, you know, preceding
21 this, I was a member or eligible for membership
22 if I let the membership lapse and in some cases
23 I have let the membership lapse because the fees
24 are ridiculous and you have to be very 25 selective.

1 Q Okay. Of the professional societies you list on
2 your CV, which of these societies or
3 organizations do you remain a member?
4 A Only the Australian Psychological Society, but I
5 have at one time or another been members -- oh,
6 and the International Association of Relational
7 Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy. Oh, and I'm a
8 member of the Australian Dispute Resolution
9 Association, yeah.
10 Q And when was the last time you were a member of 11 the American -- or an international affiliate,
12 it looks like, of the American Psychological
13 Association?
14 A I let those go after I left the university.
15 Q So 2019 or so?
16 A Yeah.
17 Q Is that because the university was paying your 18 membership dues?
19 A Oh, no. No, we have to pay our own membership
20 dues.
21 Q Why did you let your membership lapse then?
22 A There's just so much available on the Internet
23 now. It just wasn't value for money. I mean,
24 the Australian Psychological Society, the fees
25 are $1,000 a year and you just have to be

1 selective.

2 Q And what does it mean to be an international

3 affiliate of the American Psychological

4 Association? I just don't know what that means.

5 A That means that if you're not American, you

6 can't be a full member.

7 Q Gotcha. Other than the organizations that you

8 list here on Page 2 of your CV, are you

9 currently a member of any other professional

10 organizations?

11 A Yes, I'm a council member of the University of

12 Sydney Association of Professors and I'm a

13 council member of the Australian Association of 14 University Professors. I'm a member of the 15 Society for Evidence-Based Gender Medicine.

16 Q And if I refer to that organization just as

17 SEGM, S-E-G-M, you'll know what I mean?

18 A I will.

19 Q How did you become a member of SEGM?

20 A I was invited.

21 Q By whom?

22 A There were two founding directors and I think

23 one of them is Australian and he put my name up

24 to the American cofounder and they invited me

25 together.

1 Q And when did you first become a member?

2 A I'd say maybe three to four years ago.

3 Q Have you ever held a leadership position with 4 the organization?

5 A No, I avoid administration and hierarchies and,

6 you know, political positions like the plague.

7 I'm a clinician, I'm a researcher, I'm a writer,

8 and I don't have time for that and I'm not

9 interested in that, yeah.

10 Q Have you ever been compensated by SEGM for any 11 reason?

12 A Yes, I have been on one occasion.

13 Q I assume this was for giving a talk or

14 presentation to a meeting?

15 A I wrote some extensive material for their

16 clinical guide.

17 Q I'm sorry, I missed a word there. Wrote some 18 what material?

19 A Extensively. I wrote some very long documents

20 for them when we were putting together the 21 clinical guide and it was an honorarium. I

22 didn't ask for payment, but they appreciated the

23 amount of time and effort that I devoted to 24 that. And I was perfectly prepared to do it

25 voluntarily so it was just a gesture rather than

1 -- it wasn't a contract. It was an honorarium.

2 Q Does SEGM hold meetings or conferences?

3 A Yes.

4 Q How often?

5 A I believe about once a month there's a Zoom

6 meeting and from time to time, you know, people

7 get together in person but it's very difficult

8 when you're in Australia. You have to be very

9 selective where you travel.

10 Q Do you have to be invited to become a member?

11 A I believe so.

12 Q Are you aware that statements by SEGM have been

13 cited in support of a formal opinion in Texas

14 that took the position that the provision of 15 certain gender-affirming care to a minor

16 constitutes child abuse?

17 A Yes.

18 MR. FISHER: I was just gonna object. I

19 wasn't sure what formal opinion. Could you

20 maybe --

21 MR. ROSE: I can state for the record, Tom,

22 but when Attorney General Paxton issued his

23 formal opinion declaring the provision of 24 certain care to be child abuse under Texas law

25 he cited SEGM, I think, a couple times.

Page 45

1 MR. FISHER: Paxton did, okay. Thank you.

2 MR. ROSE: And I didn't see a point to

3 bring that up and I apologize, bringing the 4 actual document up.

5 Q And I guess my question to you, Doctor, is

6 whether you believe that providing

7 gender-affirming care to minors in the form of

8 puberty blockers or hormones constitutes child

9 abuse.

10 A I would prefer to avoid a motive language. I do

11 believe it's very poor medicine to derail a

12 child's natural developmental trajectory

13 precipitously when the drugs that have been

14 prescribed have known demonstrated (inaudible)

15 to the human body.

16 Now, child abuse in this country, and I'm

17 sure in yours, carries with it a legal

18 definition and so I don't think it's helpful to 19 use a motive language when trying to discuss the 20 best treatment and management of young people

21 who are declaring themselves gender dysphoric.

22 Q And, I'm sorry, Doctor, I would know the answer

23 to this question if you were a psychologist in 24 America. As a psychologist in Australia, are

25 you authorized to prescribe medications?

1 A No.
2 Q Are you a member of any advocacy or political
3 organizations?
4 A No.
5 Q Have you been in the past?
6 A You mean advocacy for gender-affirming care?
7 Q I meant in general and we can narrow it down
8 from there.
9 A No, I'm not a member of any political party.
10 I'm not a member of any religious organization.
11 I'm not a member of any gender or 12 sexuality-based organization. I am a completely
13 free agent.
14 Q Okay. My understanding is that you have 15 testified before several legislatures and other
16 decision-making bodies concerning transgender
17 persons or the provision of gender-affirming
18 care; correct?
19 A Well, only one formally in America and that was 20 in Alabama.
21 Q And I'll do that one first. Do you mean that 22 you played a role in the Alabama bill similar to 23 Indiana's before that bill was passed?
24 A Yes.
25 Q You, I assume, submitted written comments

Page 47

1 advocating for it to be passed?
2 A The original bill, yes.
3 Q And have you testified before legislatures or 4 other decision-making bodies in Australia about 5 the issue?
6 A I have provided written and oral submission to 7 the New South Whales Parliament and the 8 Queensland Parliament and written submissions to 9 the National Parliament in Canberra on various 10 bills associated with gender.
11 Q Let me take those one at a time, I'm sorry,
12 because I just don't understand how broad your 13 answer was. For the parliament in New South
14 Whales, was there more than one bill that you
15 submitted comments on?
16 A Just scroll down so I can see and just remind 17 myself.
18 Q I apologize.
19 A Just keep going. Keep going down to the 20 submissions. Okay. Stop. The submission to 21 the New South Whales Parliamentary Inquiry for 22 the Education Legislation Amendment of Parental
23 Rights, I had a written submission and appeared.
24 I was invited to appear to the parliamentary
25 inquiry. Then there was the submission and

1 invited presentation to the Queensland
2 government inquiry into the Health Legislation
3 Bill in 2019 to outlaw conversion therapy. And 4 the submission to the ACT -- that stands for 5 Australian Capital Territory -- government into 6 the proposed amendments to outlaw conversion
7 therapy. And I believe I submitted a similar 8 submission to the Victorian Parliament on 9 conversion therapy as well and I've just 10 neglected to put that in.
11 Q Okay. And other than -- maybe this would have 12 been a better way to do this. Other than the 13 possible submission to the Victorian Parliament,
14 is every time you have testified or submitted
15 written testimony to a decision-making body in 16 Australia about gender-affirming care, is that 17 contained on Page 6 of your CV here?
18 A Yes.
19 Q And the one to the Victorian Parliament was also 20 on conversion therapy?
21 A Yeah.
22 Q Have you been compensated for your testimony to
23 any of these bodies?
24 A Only Alabama and Indiana. The other have been 25 all pro bono.

1 Q And, by your compensation in Alabama and
2 Indiana, you mean after a lawsuit was filed?
3 A I don't understand.
4 Q I'm sorry, Doctor. I'm trying to figure out
5 whether you were paid for submitting testimony
6 to the legislatures while a bill was being
7 contemplated or whether you're just talking
8 about being paid to serve as a witness after a
9 bill was passed and challenged in court.
10 A I think they -- the Alabama and Indiana
11 situations are similar, so, yeah, a bill was 12 passed, now there's an appeal, and I have
13 written a report. Tom will be able to explain
14 that a lot better than me. I don't want to say
15 the wrong thing.
16 MR. FISHER: I'm of no use to Gavin in any 17 of this.
18 Q I understand. Thank you. Page 3 of your CV
19 describes some of your activities for 20 court-referred clients. Do you see that?
21 A Yeah.
22 Q And when did you assume these responsibilities?
23 A Oh, I've been doing that kind of work 10 to 15
24 years.
25 Q You mean you have over the past 15 years?

1 A Yeah.

2 Q And I assume these are cases where a court in

3 Australia, for one reason or another, wants a

4 child to be evaluated; is that fair?

5 A Yes, and they can also be referred for

6 court-mandated therapy.

7 Q In your responsibilities for court-referred

8 clients, did any of the issues arising from that

9 concern gender dysphoria?

10 A No, because the work that I've done for courts

11 related to gender dysphoria have been written

12 review and literature review and clinical

13 practice documents, so these court-referred

14 clients are usually to do with parental

15 capacity, custody, time with, and, you know, any

16 assessment that would make it necessary for the

17 child or the family to enter into a therapeutic

18 process.

19 Q Okay.

20 A I'll say no to that in terms of gender

21 dysphoria. This work, more or less, preceded my

22 work on gender issues.

23 Q Okay. And then Page 4 of your CV indicates that

24 you also consult for the Tribunal of the 25 Catholic Church; correct?

1 A I have, yeah.

2 Q Is that something you currently do?

3 A The last case I did was probably about a year

4 ago, maybe more, but I have been doing it for a

5 very long time but I've kinda pulled back

6 because I've just got too much work in other

7 areas.

8 Q And, just very briefly, what did your

9 consultancy for the church or does it entail

10 when they refer something to you?

11 A Usually cases of marriage where one party is --

12 one or both parties is seeking an annulment of 13 the marriage, and it's a very arcane system and

14 it actually behaves very much like a court of 15 law. There's a defender of the faith and a

16 defender of the couple so it's quite

17 adversarial, it can be, and, extraordinarily,

18 the Catholic Church will sometimes find that

19 there are no grounds for annulment. And usually

20 people who go and seek annulments, they're

21 devout Catholics and they wanted to remarry in

22 the Catholic Church, but they can't remarry in

23 the Catholic Church. They can only have a civil

24 marriage unless their previous marriage has been

25 annulled, and so they're the people who seek

1 annulments.

2 So I do a marriage assessment and I see the

3 couple and, you know, I do all the normal things

4 that I would normally do as a psychological

5 assessment of these couples to assist them and

6 support them in -- you know, it's usually a very

7 fraught and stressful time for these couples.

8 Q Okay. And then I'm going to scroll through this

9 real quick. And, I'm sorry, Doctor, did you say

10 that you have a copy of your CV in front of you?

11 A No, I don't, no.

12 Q Okay. Then I will scroll through real quick.

13 I'm going to scroll through Pages 5 through 8 of 14 your CV real quick, and my question to you is 15 going to be whether this, as it purports to, the 16 articles, reports, presentations that you have

17 given specifically concerning gender

18 dysphoria-related issues is going to be my

19 question. Spoiler alert.

20 Look through to the bottom there. Is that

21 an accurate description of what you identify in

22 Pages 5 through 8?

23 A Yeah, pretty much.

24 Q Okay. The very last entry under that subheading

25 related to gender dysphoria appears to be a

1 radio interview that you gave in 2015. Do you

2 see that?

3 A Yes.

4 Q I've read the transcript to this interview.

5 It's my assumption it was mistakenly placed

6 here, but I will just ask you. Did this

7 interview specifically concern gender dysphoria

8 or any issues related to it?

9 A I'm sorry about that. Let me just turn my phone

10 off. It is misplaced, I'm afraid to say,

11 because the date of 2015 is prior to my work in 12 the gender dysphoria area, so I apologize for 13 that error.

14 Q That was my assumption. I just wanted to make

15 sure the record reflected that. And if that's

16 the only error you make in a 14-page CV, you

17 have done quite well for yourself.

18 Okay. The date you've given for when you

19 started focusing on gender-related issues of 20 2019 you've indicated, more or less, coincides

21 with when you left the University of Sydney.

22 I'm wondering, first and foremost, why you left

23 the University of Sydney.

24 A Well, after 31 years, I'd had enough and I was

25 wanting to get back into clinical work and the

1 tertiary system in this country is somewhat less
2 than conducive to genuine academic work. It's
3 just turned into a corporate bazaar and I no
4 longer felt the affinity that I've always felt
5 for academic life and my academic institution in 6 particular, but it was time for a change.
7 I wanted to work clinically and I wanted to 8 be free to express my firmly-held positions on 9 certain topics. And you, no doubt, are very 10 aware that there have been several academics
11 around the world who have been sacked from the 12 universities for expressing a contrary view, but 13 that didn't motivate me. I have to be very 14 clear about that because I hadn't really written
15 or published anything or even formed my opinions
16 firmly in 2019, but I did note with interest how 17 other academics were being treated around the 18 world if they dared to express a contrary view
19 and I wouldn't find that acceptable.
20 Q Was there anything specific at the University of 21 Sydney that indicated to you you would not be 22 allowed to express your opinions related to
23 gender dysphoria?
24 A Oh, absolutely. You just had to look at the new 25 policies and, you know, colleagues using -- you

1 know, you can see our names up here on the Zoom
2 and suddenly putting in preferred pronouns and
3 there were all sorts of indications that, you
4 know, the opinions were only going one way and
5 there was no room for academic debate, but I do
6 stress that that was not a motivator for me
7 personally.
8 Q Okay. I'm going to scroll back up to Page 5 of 9 your CV. Toward the bottom of the page is an 10 article with the lead author R. D'Angelo that 11 you coauthored titled One Size Does Not Fit All.
12 Do you see that?
13 A Yeah.
14 Q Other than this publication, have any of your 15 writings concerning gender dysphoria or its 16 treatment been published in any peer-reviewed
17 journals?
18 A No, not at this point.
19 Q But this D'Angelo article was published in a
20 peer-reviewed journal?
21 A Yes, it was.
22 Q And it's my understanding from looking at the 23 article that it's a direct response to an 24 article that had been published by Jack Turban
25 and others?

1 A Correct.
2 Q Pages 7 through 8 of your CV identify keynote
3 and invited presentations and podcasts that you
4 have given pertaining to gender dysphoria. Do
5 you see that?
6 A Yes.
7 Q Is this a complete list of the presentations
8 that you have given concerning gender dysphoria?
9 A Look, it might not be complete. I, you know,
10 was under extreme time pressure to get all the 11 materials prepared for this deposition and I did
12 focus very much on the content, you know,
13 reviewing the literature, writing, and then I
14 had to focus an enormous amount of attention on 15 doing the case file reviews of the four
16 plaintiffs so it may not be an exhaustive list.
17 Q Is it fair to say that you intended it as an 18 exhaustive list but there might have been some 19 presentations that simply slipped your mind as 20 you were preparing this?
21 A Quite possibly, yes.
22 Q Are there any presentations that you
23 intentionally left off?
24 A No.
25 Q Okay. First of all, we've been going for about

Page 57

1 an hour and a half. Are you still good to go
2 for a while?
3 A Yes, I'm fine.
4 MR. ROSE: Please, if anyone needs a break,
5 feel free to speak up, but, as I say, I'm more
6 than happy to keep talking as long as anyone
7 will let me.
8 THE WITNESS: I just wonder if I could have 9 a one-minute adjournment. I'll be back in one
10 minute.
11 MR. ROSE: That's perfectly fine.
12 (A recess was taken.)
13 DIRECT EXAMINATION CONTINUING,
14 QUESTIONS BY GAVIN M. ROSE:
15 Q My understanding is that you have been retained
16 by the State of Indiana to offer expert
17 testimony in this case. Is that your 18 understanding as well?
19 A Yes.
20 Q And you understand that this litigation
21 generally challenges a complete ban on providing 22 certain gender-affirming care to minors
23 diagnosed with gender dysphoria?
24 A Yes.
25 Q In order to become involved in this case, did

1 you reach out to Indiana or did Indiana or its
2 attorneys contact you?
3 A The latter.
4 Q And you're being compensated at an hourly rate
5 of $400 U.S.?
6 A Yes.
7 Q Do you know approximately how many hours you've
8 devoted to this case so far?
9 A I've kept a running total, but it's well over
10 100. Well over, yeah.
11 Q How does the hourly rate of $400 compare with 12 the rate that you charge to clients for 13 psychotherapy?
14 A It's extremely generous.
15 Q What is your hourly rate to provide
16 psychotherapy?
17 A I work on a sliding scale so people who are in 18 financial hardship I work for what's called the 19 Medicare rebate, which is the amount that is 20 covered by the nationalized healthcare cover in 21 Australia, and for people who own planes, boats,
22 and tennis courts I charge about, depending,
23 250.
24 Q I'm sorry, did you say 350? 250?
25 A 250. And that's a lot less in American dollars

1 because our Australian dollar is only worth
2 about $.68 to your dollar at the moment.
3 Q And that's what I was going to ask. That's in 4 Australian dollars?
5 A Yeah. Yeah.
6 Q Okay. At the outset of this deposition you
7 indicated that you had your expert declaration
8 in front of you?
9 A Yes.
10 Q Is that still the case?
11 A Yes, it is.
12 Q Okay. I'm going to share my screen just very 13 quickly right now and pull up what I marked as 14 Exhibit 2. And I assume that you recognize this 15 as the expert declaration you have submitted?
16 A Yes.
17 Q And I will tell you at the outset that I did not 18 include any of the attachments that your 19 attorneys provided to us. If it's okay with 20 you, I am going to stop the share of this and 21 both you and I can reference our hard copies and 22 I assume that will be much quicker than me
23 scrolling up and down through this. Is that 24 okay?
25 A That's okay.

1 Q Okay. Did you draft your declaration yourself?
2 A Yes.
3 Q Did anyone other than you draft any portion of 4 it?
5 A No.
6 Q Did anyone other than Indiana's attorneys review
7 or comment on it before you finalized it?
8 A No.
9 Q Have you conferred with any other professionals
10 about this litigation?
11 A No.
12 Q Are you familiar with -- and by familiar, I just 13 mean do you know who they are. Are you familiar
14 with the other individuals that Indiana has 15 designated as expert witnesses in this case?
16 A No, I don't think I am. I haven't been 17 specifically advised, no.
18 Q And my only question to you is whether you have 19 conferred with any of them about this case.
20 A No.
21 Q Okay. I'm pulling up just very quickly what I
22 have marked as Exhibit 3. Do you see that?
23 A Yes.
24 Q Have you seen this document before?
25 A Yes.

1 Q It's my understanding that this is a summary
2 prepared either by Indiana's attorneys or by you
3 in conjunction with Indiana's attorneys
4 indicating which medical records you have
5 attached to your declarations as Exhibits B, C,
6 D, and E. Is that correct?
7 A Yes.
8 Q Since leaving the University of Sydney, are 9 there any conditions or diagnoses other than 10 gender dysphoria that you consider yourself
11 specialized and emphasize your practice in?
12 A I'm best known for developmental and educational 13 psychology type diagnoses, but I also have an 14 international reputation in the treatment of 15 music performance anxiety and I have many 16 peer-reviewed international publications and 17 have developed a completely new theory about 18 music performance anxiety so that would be an 19 expertise I'm well known for.
20 The other well-known area is the area of 21 sexual offending and I've written extensively on 22 child sexual abuse and juvenile sex offending.
23 So they would be kind of super specialties
24 that I have, but, in general, in the field of 25 developmental and educational psychology.

1 Q Okay. You indicate in your expert report -- and
2 I don't think you have to look at it, but I
3 think it's Paragraph 9 -- that you have become a
4 tertiary referral source and you mentioned that
5 here as well.
6 A Yeah.
7 Q What does that mean, becoming a tertiary
8 referral source?
9 A Well, it means people have gone through other
10 steps before they get to me.
11 Q Okay. And are there particular persons or 12 entities from whom you receive a significant
13 number of referrals?
14 A I get most of my referrals directly from parents
15 who have spoken with each other. There are some 16 parent support organizations who will recommend 17 parents to me and so they'll come through that 18 route as well.
19 Q Okay. In your declaration you indicate that you
20 are one of only a few clinicians practicing
21 exploratory psychotherapy with persons with 22 gender dysphoria because of so-called conversion
23 therapy bans that have been passed in some 24 Australian states. I assume you're familiar 25 with that.

1 A Yes.
2 Q What Australian states have passed a ban on
3 conversion therapy?
4 A Queensland, Victoria, the ACT, and I think one
5 in Tasmania is about to go through. And, yeah,
6 I think that they're the four, yeah.
7 Q And I assume you've reviewed the laws that were
8 being proposed and then passed in these states?
9 A Yes.
10 Q Are they all, I guess, functionally identical,
11 for lack of a better word?
12 A Yeah. Yeah, I would say.
13 Q I'm going to pull up what I have marked as 14 Exhibit 4. Do you see that document in front of 15 you?
16 A Yes, but I can't read it.
17 Q That's perfectly fair. I will represent to you
18 that the, I guess, fifth page of the PDF, which 19 has an internal pagination No. 1, says "The 20 Parliament of Victoria enacts:" And I'm just 21 wondering if you recognize this as Victoria's
22 ban on conversion therapy.
23 A Yes, I recognize it, yes.
24 Q And my assumption is that you, yourself,
25 practice in New South Wales?

1 A That's right, yes.
2 Q Is there a conversion therapy ban that has been
3 enacted in New South Wales?
4 A Not a legal ban, but there's a huge amount of 5 pressure against therapists who are not
6 practicing gender-affirming care.
7 Q And, I'm sorry, I just didn't understand from 8 your declaration. Are you saying that the 9 psychotherapy that you perform to patients with 10 gender dysphoria would be illegal if you did the 11 same thing in Queensland, Victoria, or the ACT?
12 A Yes.
13 Q My understanding is that Australia is at least 14 considering a nationwide ban. Is that your 15 understanding?
16 A Yes, that's my understanding.
17 Q Has it been passed yet?
18 A No.
19 Q Okay. In Paragraph 10 of your declaration you
20 indicate that you're unable to list the 21 Australian cases in which you've testified as an
22 expert because of laws protecting the identity
23 of minors; correct?
24 A Yeah.
25 Q But there have been approximately 100 of those

Page 65

1 cases?
2 A That includes my child sexual abuse cases.
3 They're not all related to gender dysphoria.
4 And it also includes the family court cases and
5 the children's court cases. They involve
6 custody disputes but not related to gender
7 dysphoria.
8 Q And that was going to be my question is we 9 looked at the court-referred clients portion of 10 your CV. Is that what those 100 cases refer to?
11 A No, no, no. That's post the court process, the 12 court referred. These are assessments for or 13 expert witness regarding the actual call of 14 matter.
15 Q Of those 100 cases, approximately how many
16 concern gender dysphoria or related issues?
17 A Oh, I think only about three.
18 Q And I assume those were in the last few years?
19 A Yeah.
20 Q And then the one American case you identify is 21 the case challenging a ban similar to ours in 22 Alabama?
23 A Yes.
24 Q And you identify the case as Bowman, but I
25 assume, if you know, it's the same case that I

Page 66

1 know as Eknes-Tucker?

2 A I'll take your word for that.

3 Q Okay. Doctor, I am ready to move into slightly

4 more substantive matters. Thank you for your

5 patience as I went through that.

6 I want to be perfectly clear from the

7 outset. Do you consider gender dysphoria to be

8 a valid medical diagnosis?

9 A No.

10 Q Are there any circumstances under which you

11 believe a patient may accurately be diagnosed

12 with gender dysphoria?

13 A Let me put it this way. I think there is a

14 phenomenon that one could describe as gender

15 dysphoria, but the diagnostic process is what

16 I'm referring to as lacking validity. So, in

17 answer to your first question -- could you just

18 repeat your first question about gender

19 dysphoria?

20 Q My first question was whether you consider

21 gender dysphoria to be a valid diagnosis.

22 A Diagnosis, no. I have major diagnostic concerns

23 with the way in which gender dysphoria is being

24 diagnosed, but I'm not challenging the existence

25 of a phenomenon, a clinical phenomenon, that can

1 be described as gender dysphoria.

2 Q What does that mean, a clinical phenomenon?

3 A Well, you know, if a patient comes to you and

4 says, "Look, I've got very low mood, I'm not

5 sleeping, I've lost my appetite, I've got no

6 motivation," you'll say, "Well, you know, that

7 sounds like a depressive process," and I need to

8 explore that further with the patient.

9 Similarly, with gender dysphoria, you know,

10 children will come with their narrative about

11 I've always wanted to be a boy and I've always

12 wanted to play with boy things and, in the 13 extreme cases, they want to cut off their sexual

14 organs and so forth. So, of course, one has to 15 be alert to the possibility that there is a

16 clinical process in which the child is

17 uncomfortable in his or her own body and that

18 needs to be explored.

19 Q Do you believe that there are any circumstances

20 under which a child who presents with that

21 clinical phenomenon should be allowed to receive

22 puberty blockers or gender-affirming hormones?

23 A Under almost no circumstances would I think that

24 is a valid approach to take.

25 Q You qualify that with "almost no." What are the

1 circumstances where you think that might be a

2 valid approach?

3 A Well, if you look at the historical literature

4 and, you know, the amount of writing that

5 occurred, you know, pre sort of 2005 to '10,

6 this was a vanishingly rare diagnosis,

7 vanishingly rare. For example, some of the 8 population figures given for the prevalence of

9 gender dysphoria pre the common era of gender

10 dysphoria, let's put it that way, Sweden was

11 reporting one in one million. The DSM-5

12 reported 1 in 27,000 females and one in 10,000

13 males. So, you know, these figures are

14 extremely low so I'm not going to be absolutist

15 and say there is no circumstance under which

16 it's not an appropriate diagnosis, but the 17 degree to which it's being diagnosed today is of 18 great clinical concern.

19 Q And, Doctor, my question was: How would a child

20 have to present to you for you to believe it to

21 be appropriate for that child to receive puberty

22 blockers or gender-affirming hormones or is that

23 just off the table entirely?

24 A It's very close to being off the table.

25 Q How about for adults? Do you think adults

1 should have the ability to receive

2 gender-affirming hormones or even

3 gender-affirming surgery?

4 A Under very special circumstances. Under the

5 original treatment protocol for an adult seeking

6 transgender surgery was that they had to live in

7 their chosen sex for two years and undergo

8 intensive psychotherapy before they would be

9 cleared for surgery. None of those safeguards

10 are in place for young people.

11 Q If they were in place, would you believe it

12 would be appropriate for them to receive this

13 sort of gender-affirming care?

14 A In vanishingly rare cases.

15 Q And can you imagine a child who presents who has

16 consistently over a number of years presented as

17 a sex different than the birth sex who has been

18 in therapy for years and who is presenting with

19 no comorbidities and a certain level of

20 distress, can you imagine yourself thinking it

21 appropriate for that person to receive

22 gender-affirming medications?

23 A I don't think such a person exists.

24 Q Okay. I want to turn, at long last, to social

25 contagion and your description of social

1 contagion. My understanding is that you
2 separate your declaration into two chapters;
3 correct?
4 A Yes.
5 Q And will you flip to Paragraph 21 of your
6 declaration on Page 11?
7 A Okay. So I'm going to have to change glasses
8 frequently when I'm looking at my declaration.
9 So you said 21?
10 Q 21.
11 A Alright.
12 Q Are you there?
13 A Yes.
14 Q You don't have to do so out loud, but will you
15 read Paragraph 21 to yourself real quick?
16 A Yeah, I've read it.
17 Q Okay. We'll get to the specifics momentarily,
18 but my first question is if this paragraph
19 provides a fair summary of the conclusion that 20 you offer in the first chapter of your 21 declaration.
22 A Yes.
23 Q You use the language "social contagion may have 24 a major role" to play, and I'm curious about 25 your use of the word "may" in that sentence.

1 A Well, I'm not absolutist or prescriptionist
2 because I am not omnipotent and my paper is
3 based on very careful analysis and inference.
4 And the reason that it is based on analysis and
5 inference is that there has been no
6 empirically-driven epidemiological study to test
7 my hypotheses and that's why I say "may."
8 Q And you're familiar, I assume, with an article
9 and ultimately a correction to that article that 10 was published by Dr. Lisa Littman who was then 11 with Brown University?
12 A Uh-huh.
13 Q I'm sorry. Yes?
14 A Yes.
15 Q And you're aware, I assume, that she describes 16 her work as "generating hypotheses, not 17 conclusions"?
18 A Yes.
19 Q And you just used that word, too. Is it fair to 20 say that you are describing to us a hypothesis?
21 A Yes, it is fair to say that, but some hypotheses
22 are more robust than others and I believe this
23 to be a very robust hypothesis.
24 Q Will you turn to Paragraph 108 of your
25 declaration?

1 A Did you say 108?
2 Q 108 on Page 55.
3 A Yes.
4 Q Are you there?
5 A Yes, I am.
6 Q And in that paragraph you describe a "core group
7 of 'actual' cases," I assume of gender
8 dysphoria. Do you see that?
9 A Yes.
10 Q And by "core group of 'actual' cases," you meant
11 actual cases of gender dysphoria?
12 A Yes.
13 Q And it appears to me that you're indicating in 14 this paragraph that social contagion may affect 15 some "actual cases" of gender dysphoria but may 16 also affect some other, I assume, nonactual
17 cases. Is that a fair statement?
18 A Yes, that's a fair statement.
19 Q And how does the social contagion affect the 20 actual cases?
21 A Well, it's the disinhibition effect that if --
22 you see, I'm trying to cover all my bases here
23 because all of the literature that I've read,
24 all the epidemiological literature available on 25 gender dysphoria, will identify a case. It

1 might be 1 in 84,000. It might be 1 in 1
2 million. It might be 1 in "twenty-two hundred
3 and fourteen thousand." There's data predating
4 2010 that shows, you know, very consistently
5 that there are cases but they're vanishingly
6 rare. It wouldn't even qualify for -- well, an 7 orphan diagnosis qualifies because --
8 Q Let me stop you there because I think you've 9 gone well beyond the --
10 MR. FISHER: Gavin, let her finish the 11 answer, please. You keep doing this. You gotta
12 let her answer. She's trying to provide you an 13 answer.
14 MR. ROSE: I think she keeps stepping well
15 beyond my questions, Tom.
16 A I'm sorry. I'll be very specific. It's okay.
17 It's okay. The answer is: Yes, there are some 18 actual cases. We don't know how many. And of 19 those actual cases, the current (inaudible) of 20 transgender affirming everything would help that 21 vanishingly rare case who had not yet enacted or 22 done anything about their genuine gender
23 dysphoria to come forward for treatment.
24 Q And I think you referred to that at the outset
25 as a disinhibition effect. Is that fair?

Page 74

1 A Yeah. Yeah.
2 Q It might make some people just feel more
3 comfortable coming forward?
4 A Yes.
5 Q Okay. I want to make sure I understand
6 generally now what types of things might serve
7 as the social contagion you described as capable
8 of causing persons to mistakenly identify as 9 transgender. You describe, first and foremost,
10 influences from peers, celebrities, social
11 media. Is that a fair statement?
12 A Yeah. It obviously goes way beyond that, but,
13 yes, they are factors that are included.
14 Q And I guess my question is: If a celebrity or 15 other influential person does nothing more than 16 openly identify themselves as being transgender,
17 is that something that you think can have this 18 social contagion effect?
19 A Yes.
20 Q There does not need to be any attempt at overt
21 coercion of any sort?
22 A No.
23 Q What if a public library or a school library
24 chooses to either carry or display books
25 pertaining to gender-related issues, is that

Page 75

1 something that can have a social contagion
2 effect?
3 A Absolutely. Particularly as they're universally
4 full of misinformation.
5 Q What if a person is simply subjected to a book
6 with a transgender protagonist, can that have a
7 social contagion effect?
8 A Yes, it can. The Internet site Anime was 9 recently boasting that it now had 279 characters
10 that were known cisgender.
11 Q Do you know how many cisgender characters it 12 has?
13 A Half a dozen.
14 Q And the Internet site Anime, is that anime.com?
15 A I presume.
16 Q You know throughout your declaration that in 17 recent years there have been significant
18 increases in persons identifying as transgender
19 or in seeking care from gender clinics. I
20 assume you agree that's a fair summary?
21 A Yeah.
22 Q I assume you agree that there are other factors
23 in addition to social contagion that might also 24 cause an increase in persons identifying as 25 transgender?

Page 76

1 A Well, you have to go back to my paragraph that
2 tries to explain the statistical complexity. I
3 would argue that what explains the exponential
4 increase in young people presenting as 5 transgender is primarily accounted for by the 6 phenomena of social contagion.
7 Q And I understand that and you used the word
8 "primarily." I'm just wondering what other
9 factors might also account for that.
10 A Well, the other factors I see as secondary
11 factors. So gender dysphoria has become a
12 vehicle for young people who are very distressed
13 about themselves in some way that something has 14 gone wrong with their development, so they're 15 unhappy, they're discontent, they don't have a
16 peer group, they're lonely, they may be in 17 conflict with their parents, they may have and 18 they will have significant comorbid conditions.
19 So gender dysphoria has become, you know, the 20 overarching umbrella on which disturbed young
21 people are hanging their hats, so to speak,
22 because they get such a receptive response to 23 declaring themselves transgender, whereas if 24 they said, oh, I'm depressed or I'm anxious,
25 well, that's very garden variety and it doesn't

1 get above the threshold of concern, whereas
2 young people presenting with gender dysphoria
3 have this whole machine around them now. It
4 really gets their parents' attention. It really
5 gets them noticed and, you know, managed and so
6 forth. So these are secondary things.
7 But, I mean, I have parents coming to me
8 who show me thousands of text messages that 9 their child had received from groomers and 10 predators on the Internet trying to convince 11 young people to transition. You're really
12 trans. If you say this about yourself, it means
13 that you're really trans. And some of them have 14 gone to the point of actually sending minors
15 cross-sex hormones through the Internet as a
16 gift to the young person.
17 Q Do you believe that better understanding of 18 gender dysphoria has played any role in the 19 increase in the number of persons identifying as
20 transgender?
21 A I don't think there's any better understanding
22 that I've noticed in the last 10 years.
23 Q Do you think increases in the availability of 24 treatment have led more persons to come forward
25 as transgender?

1 A Absolutely, but in a socially contagious way.
2 Q Are you aware of studies indicating that more
3 persons will seek care for a condition when that
4 condition becomes destigmatized?
5 A You know, the destigmatized argument has a small
6 amount of merit, but it can't possibly account
7 for the numbers and the trajectories on graphs
8 that we're seeing with gender dysphoria.
9 Q Are you familiar with a body of professional
10 literature specifically concerning increased
11 numbers in patients seeking treatment for HIV as 12 the condition became destigmatized?
13 A Sure.
14 Q And you agree that there were significant 15 increases in persons seeking treatment for that 16 condition?
17 A Yes, because they had a diagnosable medical 18 condition that could be treated with
19 scientifically evidence-based medications.
20 Q In your opinion, can social contagion work the 21 other way around if someone is subjected to 22 messages that being transgender is wrong or 23 simply does not have access to any books with a
24 transgender protagonist? Can that cause a
25 transgender person to remain in the closet, so

1 to speak?
2 A There is absolutely no evidence for that
3 assertion one way or the other, but if you want
4 me to give an educated guess, it's possible but 5 it would be extremely unusual.
6 Q In the report that you submitted in the Alabama
7 case -- and I didn't print it out or pull it up
8 for you -- you noted that the "ominous trend"
9 whereby more persons are identifying as 10 transgender has "rarely been systematically
11 studied" either theoretically or empirically. I
12 understand you might not recall the precise
13 verbiage, but do you recall expressing
14 sentiments similar to that?
15 A Yes.
16 Q And I assume that's still an accurate statement
17 of your beliefs?
18 A Well, it's not my beliefs. It's an empirical
19 fact.
20 Q Are you aware of any peer-reviewed studies at 21 all that attempted to systematically study
22 whether social contagion has led to increases in 23 transgender identification?
24 A Did you use the word "peer-reviewed" or -- what 25 was the wording exactly?

1 Q Sorry, I will repeat the question. Are you
2 aware of any peer-reviewed studies at all that
3 attempted to systematically study whether social
4 contagion has led to increases in transgender
5 identification?
6 A Well, Jack Turban actually claims that he's 7 systematically and emphatically disconfirmed
8 social contagion, but, given that I only deal
9 with robust scientific literature that uses a
10 scientific method, I will say no because his 11 study does not fall into that category.
12 Q Are you aware of any peer-reviewed studies at 13 all that attempted to determine what proportion
14 of the increase in transgender identification
15 over recent years can be attributed to social 16 contagion?
17 A I have stated at the outlet that my conclusions
18 are inferential and deductual. I looked at 19 social contagions in a range of other adolescent
20 psychopathologies and the same mechanisms and 21 the same dynamics and the same upward swings in 22 prevalence have occurred in at least six
23 adolescent psychopathologies that have been 24 systematically studied. Now, there's no will to 25 systematically study social contagion and gender

1 dysphoria and the reason for that is that it
2 will disprove the basic tenant of gender
3 ideology.
4 Q Doctor, I'm sorry to cut you off. I don't mind
5 that you're trying to explain your answer, but
6 the question I asked you first was a yes or no
7 question. We do need to make sure the record is 8 complete and clear so I do want to make sure I
9 get a yes or no to the question about whether 10 you're aware of any peer-review studies that 11 attempted to determine what proportion of the 12 increase in transgender identification can be
13 attributed to social contagion.
14 A I've already answered that question and then I 15 tried to qualify it and was unable to finish my 16 answer.
17 Q Is it fair to say that there are no
18 peer-reviewed studies that attempt to determine
19 what proportion of the increase in transgender
20 identification over recent years can be
21 attributed to social contagion?
22 A Yep.
23 Q I'm sorry. Did you say yes or no?
24 A I said yep.
25 Q Is that a yes?

Page 82

1 A Yes, it's a yes.
2 Q Okay. I'm going to pull up for you real quick
3 what I have marked as Exhibit 5. And do you see
4 that in front of you?
5 A Yes.
6 Q Beginning in -- and you can go there if you
7 want, but in Paragraph 81 of your declaration
8 you describe an article that was written by 9 Dr. Littman who we mentioned.
10 A Yes.
11 Q And I understand that there was ultimately a
12 correction to that article, but you recognize
13 what I have in front of you as the original
14 article that Dr. Littman authored?
15 A Yes.
16 Q And both you and Dr. Littman discuss
17 "rapid-onset gender dysphoria"; correct?
18 A Yes.
19 Q Prior to Dr. Littman's article in 2018, are you
20 aware of any professional literature that used
21 that term?
22 A No.
23 Q Is rapid-onset gender dysphoria a diagnosis
24 listed in the DSM-5 or its text revision?
25 A No.

1 Q Is it identified in the International
2 Classification of Diseases, ICD-9?
3 A No.
4 Q Is there an objective measure that you or 5 Dr. Littman are using to determine when or 6 whether the onset of gender dysphoria is 7 "rapid"?
8 A It's adolescent onset as opposed to early
9 childhood onset.
10 Q And that was going to be my question. Is the 11 term saying anything other than that a person
12 first identified themselves as transgender
13 during their adolescence rather than earlier?
14 A Well, it's the timing but also the rapidity of 15 the onset so it becomes manifest in a very short
16 period of time during adolescence.
17 Q Do you have a way of distinguishing between 18 someone with "rapid-onset gender dysphoria" and 19 someone who had dysphoria for a longer period of 20 time but simply delayed in coming out through 21 pressures or family dynamics or what have you?
22 A That would be very unusual, but the way that I
23 assess it is through very detailed clinical 24 interview.
25 Q Do you have any patients that you've diagnosed

Page 84

1 with rapid-onset gender dysphoria?
2 A Well, I don't tend to be beholden to diagnoses,
3 but the majority of my caseload would, if you
4 wanted to use that term, would fit into that 5 categorization.
6 Q Okay. It's my understanding that for her study
7 Dr. Littman posted a survey on three different
8 websites where parents had reported sudden or 9 rapid onsets of gender dysphoria in their
10 children; is that correct?
11 A That's my understanding, yes.
12 Q And then I understand they were subsequently 13 reposted to a fourth website, a Facebook group?
14 A Uh-huh.
15 Q Sorry. Yes?
16 A Yes.
17 Q And of the three websites that Dr. Littman
18 originally posted the survey, are you aware that 19 they have all taken a position on the provision
20 of gender-affirming care to transgender youth?
21 A The parents?
22 Q The websites.
23 A Oh. No, I don't think I was completely clear
24 about that.
25 Q Do you have an understanding that all three of

Page 85

1 those sites have taken a position that was
2 "unsupportive" of gender transition?
3 MR. FISHER: I'm going to object. I'm not
4 sure that the meaning of that is clear or where 5 it's coming from.
6 MR. ROSE: Why don't I get an answer first
7 and then I can explain, if that's okay.
8 Q Do you need me to repeat the question, Doctor?
9 A Yes.
10 Q Do you agree that all three of the sites on 11 which Dr. Littman posted the survey have taken a 12 position that is "unsupportive of [gender]
13 transition"?
14 MR. FISHER: Same objection. You may
15 answer.
16 A Okay. Concerned and questioning.
17 Q Would it surprise you to know that in her notice
18 of correction to this article Dr. Littman
19 characterized all three of these websites as 20 being "unsupportive of [gender] transition"?
21 A Look, I probably read it, but I've been reading
22 hundreds of papers since then and details will 23 sometimes escape one's attention.
24 MR. ROSE: And, just for the record since
25 I'm speaking instead of writing, the "gender"

1 there is in brackets. The quote is
2 "unsupportive of transition" and the "gender" is 3 taken from context.
4 Q One of the websites that Dr. Littman indicates
5 the survey was posted to is called Youth Trans
6 Critical Professionals. Are you familiar with 7 that website?
8 A Yes.
9 Q Have you ever visited it?
10 A I tend not to spend a lot of time visiting 11 websites.
12 Q Have you ever visited it?
13 A I've clicked to it.
14 Q The reason I ask is that if you go right now,
15 you pick up a language saying that the website
16 is now private and it cannot be accessed, and 17 I'm wondering if you were aware of that.
18 A No.
19 Q Okay. And you understand that Dr. Littman
20 directed her survey toward the parents of 21 transgender youth, not the youth themselves;
22 right?
23 A Yes.
24 Q When you provide psychotherapy to one of your 25 patients, are there any circumstances at all

1 where you would rely exclusively on a parent's
2 report about what was going on with their child?
3 A No, I do what's called triangulation and I
4 include in my case formulation information from 5 every possible source that is available to me.
6 Q And one of those sources is obviously speaking
7 with the child themselves; correct?
8 A Of course.
9 Q And I assume in speaking with the child you
10 would want to know not just what they're going 11 through but also if there were any reasons that 12 their parents would not be aware of what they're 13 going through; is that fair?
14 MR. FISHER: I'm going to object. I'm not 15 sure what is meant by "what they're not going 16 through."
17 THE WITNESS: Yeah, I know. Thank you.
18 Q Do you understand the question, Doctor?
19 A I think you'll have to reword it.
20 Q Let me just ask this more generally. In your 21 field of psychotherapy, I assume that
22 self-reporting provides a useful and sometimes
23 vital source of information; is that fair?
24 A Yes.
25 Q Okay. And you're aware, I assume, that the year

Page 88

1 after Dr. Littman first published her article
2 she published a corrected version of the same
3 article along with a notice of correction?
4 A There was a (inaudible) after the publication of 5 her article and it was taken down after it had
6 already gone through a rigorous peer-review
7 process, so, to please the naysayers, a couple
8 of sentences were added and so I wouldn't call
9 it a substantive correction. The data remained
10 unchanged and the conclusions remained
11 unchanged.
12 Q Okay. But there was a corrected version
13 published; correct?
14 A Well, there was a slightly altered version
15 published.
16 Q And at the same time of that publication there
17 was also a separate notice of correction
18 explaining the reasons for the revision that was 19 published in the same journal?
20 A Yes.
21 Q I'm going to click over to Exhibit 6. Do you
22 see that in front of you?
23 A Yes.
24 Q And you recognize this, I assume, as the notice
25 of correction?

Page 89

1 A Yes.
2 Q In this notice, Dr. Littman says that "This
3 report ... does not validate the phenomenon,"
4 and it appears from context that the phenomenon
5 is rapid-onset gender dysphoria. Do you see
6 that in the middle of the --
7 A Yeah. Yeah.
8 Q Do you agree that Dr. Littman's study does not 9 validate of phenomenon of rapid-onset gender
10 dysphoria?
11 A Absolutely. It was a very preliminary early 12 notice of something interesting, and all new 13 discoveries are made through noticing changes in 14 patterns in the environment and that can lead to 15 all sorts of astounding new discoveries. So it
16 would be foolish, and nor did she do so,
17 claiming that this study proved anything other
18 than the report of this group of parents.
19 Q Okay. Do you know Dr. Littman personally?
20 A No.
21 Q Okay. And I'm going to click over to Exhibit 7.
22 And do you see that in front of you?
23 A I do.
24 Q A short while ago, you mentioned a study by 25 Dr. Turban and others that sounded like you took

Page 90

1 issues with, and am I correct that this is that
2 study?
3 A Yes, it is.
4 Q This was published in a journal called
5 Pediatrics?
6 A Yeah.
7 Q And that's a peer-reviewed journal; correct?
8 A Let's just say they have a peer-review process
9 that has been degraded in recent times.
10 Q Has the process itself changed to your 11 knowledge?
12 A No, the process is still the same.
13 Q If it had not been for the article's publication
14 of Dr. Turban's article or others like it, would 15 you believe that the peer-review process of 16 Pediatrics had been degraded in recent years?
17 A I would have to judge that article by article,
18 but it's astounding to me that some of the 19 papers that I see published on the subject have 20 actually got through a peer-review process if it
21 was truly anonymized and objective.
22 Q I understand that you might take issue with some 23 of the data or the source of the data, but you
24 understand that Dr. Turban and others analyzed
25 data from several states that was collected by

Page 91

1 the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention;
2 correct?
3 A That one, I believe from memory, is from the 4 Youth Risk Behavior Survey.
5 MR. ROSE: Okay. Doctor, if you don't 6 mind, my bladder is desperately requesting that
7 I call a break. I'm okay with just five
8 minutes. If anyone needs a longer break, I'm 9 more than happy with that, too.
10 THE WITNESS: Five minutes is fine with me.
11 (A recess was taken.)
12 DIRECT EXAMINATION CONTINUING,
13 QUESTIONS BY GAVIN M. ROSE:
14 Q Doctor, do you still have your declaration in 15 front of you?
16 A Yes, I do.
17 Q I will have you turn to Paragraph 85 on Page 41
18 if you don't mind.
19 A Yeah.
20 Q In this paragraph, you mention an August 2021
21 statement by the Coalition for Advancement &
22 Application of Psychological Services or CAAPS
23 calling for the elimination of the use of 24 rapid-onset gender dysphoria; correct?
25 A Yes.

1 Q It's my understanding that CAAPS, with two As to
2 our court reporter, is a nonprofit coalition of 3 various professional organizations involved in 4 the science of mental health. Is that a fair
5 summary?
6 A I guess so, yes.
7 Q Well, I took it directly from their website, so
8 I hope it is. Okay. I am going to show you
9 what I've marked as Exhibit 8. Do you see that 10 in front of you?
11 A Yes.
12 Q And you, I assume, recognize this as the 13 statement to which you were referring in 14 Paragraph 85 of your declaration?
15 A That's right, yes.
16 Q And you understand, I assume, that numerous 17 other -- I won't count them, but numerous other
18 organizations also signed on to the statement?
19 A Yes.
20 Q Including both the American Psychological
21 Association and the American Psychiatric 22 Association, I think?
23 A Yes.
24 Q I'm looking, I guess, generally at Paragraph 87
25 of your declaration. I don't know, Doctor, if

1 you will need to look at it for this series of
2 questions, but I certainly invite you to if it
3 would be useful to you. In this paragraph --
4 A Sorry for interrupting. It's very hard. I've 5 got a visual impairment and it's very hard for 6 me to go from screen to page, back and forward,
7 and I'm just wondering if you would be able to 8 quickly put that up on the screen for me.
9 Q I can certainly do that. I can't promise it
10 will be quickly, but I can certainly do that.
11 A Okay.
12 Q Do you see that in front of you?
13 A Yeah.
14 Q It's Paragraph 87 of your declaration; correct?
15 A Yes.
16 Q And I'm not going to get into precise numbers,
17 but it sounds here like you're describing, I
18 guess, differences in the share of persons
19 identifying as transgender between adolescents
20 and younger children over several decades; is 21 that fair?
22 A Yes.
23 Q I think you say that prior to 2000, children age
24 3 to 12 years identifying as transgender greatly
25 outnumbered adolescents?

Page 94

1 A Yes.

2 Q And my understanding of your report is that you

3 believe the increase in the percentage of

4 adolescents identifying as transgender is

5 because that group, and particularly persons

6 assigned female at birth in that group, are

7 particularly susceptible to social contagion; is

8 that fair?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Is it fair to say that you think that social

11 contagion played a minimal role before the year

12 2000 in causing persons to identify as

13 transgender?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Is there an age at which you think persons

16 assigned female at birth have matured enough

17 that they're less likely to be susceptible to

18 social contagion?

19 A Could I register my disagreement with the phrase

20 "assigned female at birth"? Could you, please,

21 just say "a natal female" because sex is not

22 assigned at birth. Sex is determined at

23 conception by the presence of X and Y

24 chromosomes. It is not assigned at birth, so I

25 would appreciate if you could just use the

1 phrase "a natal female" or "a natal male."

2 Q Why don't I just state for the record that when

3 I use the phrase "assigned female at birth," I

4 am referring to what you would refer to as a

5 "natal female," okay?

6 A But I don't want any more documents than

7 necessary to reflect flawed and fallacious

8 scientifically-lacking gender ideology of which

9 the phrase "assigned female at birth" is a major

10 contributor.

11 Q Do you understand what I mean when I say

12 "assigned female at birth"?

13 A I understand what you mean, but you're 14 expressing it incorrectly.

15 MR. FISHER: I'm concerned along these

16 lines that it's gonna end up putting words in

17 her mouth that she doesn't want, and I think

18 that that's probably part of her concern, too.

19 MR. ROSE: Well, she can certainly answer

20 however she feels comfortable, but I am going to 21 use the verbiage with which I feel comfortable.

22 Q And, as I stated for the record, when I use the 23 phrase "assigned female at birth," I'm referring

24 to what you would refer to as "a natal female."

25 Is that fair?

Page 96

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay. The question that precipitated this was

3 whether there is an age at which you believe

4 that persons assigned female at birth have

5 matured enough that they are less susceptible to

6 social contagion?

7 A There's a clear set of studies that shows that

8 susceptibility decreases with increasing age and

9 cognitive maturity, so children are more

10 susceptible, in general -- we're talking in

11 population figures here but there's a lot of,

12 you know, variation at an individual basis, but,

13 statistically, in general, at a population

14 level, children tend to be more susceptible than 15 young adolescents; young adolescents tend to be

16 more susceptible than older adolescents; and

17 older adolescents tend to be more susceptible

18 than young adults, onwards.

19 So there's not a cut-off. There's not, you

20 know, 15 is the cut-off at which you're 21 susceptible and then after 15 you're not

22 susceptible. It's a gradient rather than

23 categorical, but that, from a statistical

24 perspective, is what the findings have been.

25 Q And I apologize for repeating you. I really

1 just think I missed a word. It sounded like you

2 were saying that children are the most

3 susceptible, young adolescents next, older

4 adolescents next, and adults are the less

5 susceptible; is that fair?

6 A From a population statistically, a generalized

7 perspective, yes.

8 Q I understand there may be variants with

9 particular individuals; correct?

10 A Well, one variation that has been noted is that

11 children who are securely attached to their

12 parents are less susceptible compared with

13 children who were not securely attached and that

14 could occur anywhere from early childhood to

15 late adolescence, so there's very important

16 modifiers of that statement.

17 Q I had asked the initial question about whether

18 there was an age at which persons assigned

19 female at birth are mature enough, and you gave

20 me that hierarchy and that's perfectly fine. I

21 assume the same hierarchy exists for persons

22 assigned male at birth?

23 A The natal males, yes, the same hierarchy exists.

24 Q And we were talking in general, but as it

25 relates to the social contagion effect of

Page 98

1 transgender identification, it's the same
2 hierarchy, right, children most susceptible,
3 then young adolescents, then older adolescents,
4 then adults?
5 A Well, when you look at the literature on uptake
6 of behavioral phenomenon in different age
7 groups, you find this effect across the board
8 whether it's substance abuse, self harm,
9 suicidality, and so forth, so it's a fairly
10 robust finding.
11 Q Okay. I'm going to scroll up on your 12 declaration again to Paragraph 84. Do you see 13 that?
14 A Yes.
15 Q And in this paragraph you're describing, at 16 least for most of it until the last sentence, a
17 study published by Indremo and others?
18 A Yes.
19 Q And this was a study that tracked a number of 20 referrals to clinics providing gender-affirming
21 care after positive or negative media coverage?
22 A Yes.
23 Q And it sounds to me from your language like 24 you're describing in this paragraph increases in 25 referrals following positive media coverage and

1 decreases following negative media coverage; is
2 that fair?
3 A That's fair.
4 Q And the study you cite concerning the negative
5 media coverage is the Indremo, the Swedish study
6 from 2020?
7 A Yes.
8 Q I'm flipping over to Exhibit 9 now. And do you
9 see that in front of you?
10 A Yes, I do.
11 Q And I assume that you recognize this as the 12 Indremo and others study?
13 A I know where you're going with this and it's a
14 question of emphasis, but the results are the 15 results. Indremo is trying to present it as,
16 you know, let's get all the media coverage
17 positive, but his study is, in fact, a perfect
18 example of social contagion. Negative coverages
19 reduces clinic numbers and positive coverage
20 increases them and so it's really quite a robust
21 demonstration of social contagion.
22 Q I'm sorry, Doctor, my question was literally
23 just do you recognize Exhibit 9, the Indremo
24 study that you cite?
25 A Yes, I do. I do recognize it, but I was

Page 100

1 anticipating where you were going with it.
2 MR. FISHER: Doctor, let me just suggest
3 let's not anticipate. We'll get through it
4 faster.
5 THE WITNESS: Thank you. Okay. I'm sorry.
6 Q You're perfectly fine. I don't mind at all. I
7 just wanted to make sure the record was clear on 8 that front.
9 A Okay.
10 Q And my understanding is that the Indremo study
11 actually studied the relationship between three 12 different media events and referrals to gender
13 clinics; correct?
14 A Yes.
15 Q One positive media event and two negative media
16 events?
17 A Well, the two negative were connected. They 18 were Part 1 and Part 2 of the same series.
19 Q And then there was also one positive media
20 event?
21 A Yes.
22 Q And do you understand that for the positive
23 event and for the first of the negative events
24 the Indremo study actually found no relationship
25 between media coverage and transgender clinic

1 referrals?
2 A Say that again. Sorry.
3 Q You understand, don't you, that for both the 4 positive media event and the first of the 5 negative media events the study actually found
6 virtually no change in the number of referrals
7 to gender clinics following the media coverage;
8 correct?
9 A It's been some time since I've read the details
10 of the article. It's just not my memory of it.
11 I thought -- let me just see that conclusion.
12 Q I've moved you down to the results section. Do
13 you see that on the --
14 A Yeah.
15 Q And you agree that the majority of this section
16 describes the changes in referrals following the 17 second negative media event; correct?
18 A Okay. So we're looking at time-specific 19 changes. So in the three months following the 20 event, referrals decreased by 25% overall, by 21 32% for individuals being natal females, and by 22 25% for those aged 13 to 18.
23 Q And you understand that those statistics that 24 you just recounted relate to the changes in 25 referrals following the second negative media

1 event; correct?

2 A Yeah. Yeah.

3 Q Do you see the last line of the results section

4 that says for the other two media events no

5 changes in referral counts or time trends were

6 observed?

7 A Yes, I do see that and I actually forgotten that

8 part of it.

9 Q Is it fair to say that in your expert report you

10 only described one of the three events studied

11 in the Indremo study?

12 A I was reporting the three-month follow-up data,

13 so I'd have to go back and just revisit that.

14 Q Okay. Then flipping back to your expert report

15 still on Paragraph 84, the last sentence of that

16 paragraph after you talk about the Indremo study

17 says, "On the contrary, increased positive media

18 coverage of trans issues resulted in an increase

19 in referrals to gender clinics." Do you see

20 that?

21 A Yeah.

22 Q The study you cite for that is Pang and others?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And, just for the record, I think you cite the 25 same study earlier in your report for a similar

1 proposition.

2 A Yes.

3 Q Just proving to you that I read the entire

4 thing.

5 A I'm very impressed.

6 Q I was gonna say I could write my memoirs three

7 times over and end the night with your report

8 here.

9 Okay. I'm flipping over to Exhibit 10.

10 And, again, my first question to you is whether

11 you recognize this as the Pang report that you

12 cite.

13 A Yes.

14 Q And I will just tell you the page numbers on 15 this exhibit do not line up with page numbers

16 that you cited elsewhere in your report simply

17 because of where I got it from, I assume.

18 Okay. My understanding is that Dr. Pang

19 and others studied referral rates to gender

20 clinics in Australia and the UK following media

21 coverage related to transgender issues. Is that

22 your understanding?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Okay. I'm going to flip over to the PDF Page 5

25 where I have highlighted a portion beginning

1 with "The search strategy." You don't need to

2 do so out loud, but can you read the highlighted

3 portion to yourself?

4 A Yes, I'm familiar with it, yes.

5 Q And this describes the search criteria or terms

6 that Pang and others used to find media items to

7 study in their report?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And you agree that these criteria included any

10 media coverage that contained the words gender,

11 transgender, or gender dysphoria as well as

12 child or adolescent; correct?

13 A Yes.

14 Q If there had been stories in the UK or Australia

15 during the relevant time period similar to the 16 negative media events that were covered in the

17 Indremo study, do you agree that they would

18 almost certainly have fallen within the search

19 criteria?

20 A It would only be a surmise, but it's likely.

21 Q It would have been very difficult to write about

22 that without using the words transgender and

23 either child or adolescent; right?

24 A Sure.

25 Q Okay. I'm going to scroll down to Page 9. And

Page 105

1 at the bottom of that carry-over paragraph at

2 the top, Pang and others write, "Testing whether

3 negative media coverage is associated with

4 reduced referral rates (and conversely whether

5 positive coverage is associated with increased

6 referral rates) would thus be a useful next

7 step." Did I read this correctly?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Would it surprise you to learn that this is the 10 only sentence in the entire study where media

11 coverage is referred to as either negative or 12 positive?

13 A Could you go back up to the top of the article?

14 Q Tell me where to stop.

15 A I just want to see the abstract. Okay. Keep

16 going. Okay. Just stop there. Come back down

17 actually. No, go up.

18 Q Sorry.

19 A There. Stop there. Okay. And you're saying

20 that he's talked about media coverage generally

21 as opposed to positive or negative media

22 coverage.

23 Q And do you agree with that?

24 A What in particular?

25 Q Do you agree that the study authors are talking

Page 106

1 about media coverage in general and not media
2 coverage as either positive toward transgender
3 issues or negative toward transgender issues?
4 A Well, saying it's positive or negative is kind
5 of drilling down, but the fact that he showed a
6 strong association between media coverage and 7 increased referrals is a demonstration of social
8 contagion.
9 Q I'm going to flip back over to Exhibit 2 where 10 you say, "On the contrary, increased positive
11 media coverage of trans issues resulted in an 12 increase in referrals to gender clinics," and I
13 want you to explain to me where you got that 14 "increased positive media coverage" language.
15 A I'd probably have to read the whole paper again
16 to tell you where I got it. I hope it wasn't an 17 overstep inference on my part, so I presume,
18 obviously, that I inferred from the paper, but I
19 would have to review the paper again to identify 20 how I drew the conclusion that it was positive
21 media coverage as opposed to any media coverage.
22 Q Prior to today, when was the last time you
23 looked at that study?
24 A Oh, it was some time ago.
25 Q Okay. I'm going to scroll down still on your

Page 107

1 declaration to, I think, Paragraph 129. Do you
2 see that in front of you?
3 A Yes, I do.
4 Q And do you see at the bottom of that paragraph
5 you state, "The authors, however, did concede
6 that ... increased media content (specifically 7 via social media) might act as a ... means of 8 social contagion"?
9 A Uh-huh.
10 Q I'm sorry. Yes?
11 A Yes.
12 Q And you underlined "might act as a ... means of 13 social contagion"; correct?
14 A Yes.
15 Q And that was still in reference to the Pang
16 study; correct?
17 A Yes.
18 Q I'm going to flip back over to Exhibit 10 and 19 scroll down to Page 9. And you will see at the 20 top of the paragraph immediately above the 21 Limitations heading, Pang and others begin their 22 statement with, "However, we are also mindful
23 that others have speculated that increased media
24 content (specifically via social media) might 25 act as a double-edged sword or a means of social

1 contagion." Did I read that correctly?
2 A Yes.
3 Q And that is the language from which you are 4 quoting?
5 A Yeah.
6 Q The declaration?
7 A Yeah.
8 Q And what I want to know is how the authors
9 saying "we are mindful that others have 10 speculated" in their article translated to "the 11 authors, however, did concede that" in your 12 expert declaration.
13 A The very fact that he mentioned it, you know,
14 implies that it has to be considered as a
15 serious hypothesis.
16 Q You think that him mentioning that others have
17 speculated about the effect of increased media
18 content means that he's conceding that it might 19 act as a means of social contagion?
20 A Yes, I think his disarming that possible
21 conclusion.
22 Q Okay. In Paragraphs 94 and 95 of your
23 declaration -- and, I'm sorry, it won't all fit
24 in on one page, but you understand that these 25 paragraphs generally concern various data from

Page 109

1 the United Kingdom and from Australia; correct?
2 A Yeah.
3 Q And, for much of this data, the citation is 4 provide is to either Kenny, DT 2021 or Kenny, DT
5 2022. Do you see that?
6 A Yep.
7 Q And these citations are obviously you; correct?
8 A They're obviously me, yes.
9 Q And are they referencing something that has been
10 published or simply data that you've collected?
11 A Well, it's been published on my website, but the 12 figures were provided by the gender clinics and 13 I converted them from either text or tabular
14 form into a graph.
15 Q Has this data been published in any
16 peer-reviewed journal?
17 A I think similar data has been used in 18 peer-reviewed publications. (Inaudible) had to 19 have used similar data to have done his study.
20 Q Your chart wherein you reference both referrals
21 to gender clinics in the UK and Australia
22 provides under it that Australian data was 23 provided by "gender clinics under freedom of 24 information applications." Do you see that?
25 A Yeah.

1 Q Did the UK data come from similar requests?
2 A No, the UK data was published on the NIH
3 website.
4 Q And I understand that -- and I'm looking at 5 Figure 3 here. Do you see the entirety of 6 Figure 3 on this screen?
7 A Yeah.
8 Q I understand that the figure is in thousands so
9 you can't garner precise numbers from this, but,
10 from looking at the chart, it appears to me that 11 the Australian data shows either zero or roughly
12 zero referrals to gender clinics all the way
13 through 2013; is that correct?
14 A Yeah.
15 Q And the UK data shows roughly zero through 2006
16 or 2007 at which point it starts increasing
17 slowly?
18 A Yes.
19 Q Is this because there were simply no gender
20 clinics prior to these dates?
21 A My understanding is that the UK only had the 22 Tavistock gender service. Right up until it's 23 closure, I think it was the only service
24 offering so-called gender-affirming care, so it
25 was a sole referral agency.

Page 111

1 Q I'm sorry, I didn't mean to cut you off. Just
2 while it was fresh on my mind, I was going to do
3 it for the court reporter, but
4 T-a-v-i-s-t-o-c-k. Do I have that correct,
5 Doctor?
6 A Yeah. Yeah.
7 Q So my question was whether it's your
8 understanding that there were no gender clinics
9 in these countries during the periods of time
10 where the chart indicates that there were zero
11 or roughly zero referrals to clinics.
12 A Well, as I've just answered for the UK, that 13 there was a clinic, but it did receive a very 14 low number of referrals. In Australia there
15 would have been a couple of clinics but nowhere
16 near as many as there are now.
17 Q A couple of gender clinics even before 2013?
18 A Look, I can't give you the precise numbers and 19 dates of clinics. I believe that they were 20 incorporated into the pediatric departments of 21 the major children's hospital, so it would have 22 been people consulting about children who were 23 presenting with gender dysphoria, but they were 24 probably not called gender clinics and there
25 wasn't a specific service for that purpose until

Page 112

1 more recently.
2 Q So, when these charts indicate zero or near
3 zero, you agree it's likely because people were 4 receiving care through something other than 5 formal gender clinics; is that fair?
6 A Yes, it's probably fair, yeah.
7 Q And do you know when Tavistock opened?
8 A I know there's data before like 2000, I mean
9 back as far as 2000, but beyond that I don't 10 know.
11 Q Do you know when it closed?
12 A I think it's formally closing September 2023.
13 Q Okay. In Paragraphs 97 and 98 of your
14 declaration, we'll start here, but do you
15 generally see what these paragraphs are talking 16 about?
17 A Yes.
18 Q It looks to me like you're describing data
19 showing increased referrals to gender clinics in 20 certain Australian states. Do I understand that 21 right?
22 A Yeah.
23 Q And Figure 4 separates it out by each state?
24 A Yes.
25 Q And I think you describe in text that the

Page 113

1 increased referrals were primarily in three
2 states, Western Australia, Queensland, and
3 Victoria. Do I have that right?
4 A Yes.
5 Q I assume on your chart WA is Western Australia?
6 A That's right.
7 Q And VIC is Victoria?
8 A Yes.
9 Q And QLD is Queensland?
10 A Yes.
11 Q My understanding is that Melbourne is the 12 largest city in Victoria. Do I have that right?
13 A Sydney is the largest.
14 Q I'm sorry. Is Sydney not in New South Wales?
15 A Sydney is in New South Wales.
16 Q Sorry. I said Victoria. Is Melbourne the 17 largest city in Victoria?
18 A Oh, I see what you mean. , it is, yes.
19 Q Okay. I'm sorry. I have to admit my knowledge
20 of Australian geography is less than yours so I
21 would've been happy to be told I was wrong
22 there.
23 A Well, my knowledge of your 51 states is very 24 sparse in my mind as well, so we're even.
25 Q We're somewhere between Los Angeles and New

Page 114

1 York. That's all you need to know.
2 A Okay.
3 Q Certainly that's all people in either Los 4 Angeles or New York care about.
5 Okay. My understanding, and please tell me
6 if I'm wrong, is that the first health clinic
7 catering solely to the needs of transgender
8 persons or gender diverse persons in Melbourne
9 was opened in 2016. Is that your understanding
10 as well?
11 MR. FISHER: I'm gonna object just because 12 there's lack of definition behind those
13 descriptions you just provided.
14 Q And you can answer the question, Doctor.
15 A I was just going to say a plane was flying
16 overhead and I missed the substantive issue in 17 your question.
18 Q Sure. My understanding is that the first health
19 clinic in Melbourne catering solely to 20 transgender and gender diverse persons opened in 21 2016. Is that your understanding as well?
22 MR. FISHER: Same objection. You can
23 answer.
24 A I couldn't give you the precise year, so, if you
25 have researched the question and found that it

1 was 2016, I will accept that answer.
2 Q You understand that it opened sometime in the 3 last 5 or 10 years; right?
4 A Yeah. Yeah.
5 Q And what's the name of that clinic in Melbourne?
6 A It's called the -- it's in the Royal Children's 7 Hospital -- the Adolescent Gender Service, I
8 think it's called, or something of that nature.
9 Q Okay. And then in Western Australia, the 10 capital and the largest city is Perth; right?
11 A Yeah.
12 Q I don't know why I didn't have an exhibit for 13 you for Victoria and I made you guess at that.
14 I'm sorry for making you do that, but I'm going
15 to pull up Exhibit 11 and see if there's a
16 rotate button.
17 MR. FISHER: You have to subscribe.
18 Q Okay. Why don't I flip to my own Exhibit 11 and 19 read you the highlighted portion that I have 20 taken there. And I will tell you that this is a 21 printout that I took from the web page of the 22 Government of Western Australia's Mental Health
23 Commission, and the portion I have highlighted 24 says that the gender identity service "was 25 created in 2015 to address the gap in services

Page 116

1 available to young people in WA experiencing
2 problems with their gender identity."
3 Is it your understanding that the gender
4 identity service opened in Western Australia in 5 2015?
6 A Yes.
7 Q And I assume that that's the largest gender
8 clinic in Western Australia?
9 A Yes.
10 Q And then Exhibit 12 is another printout that 11 I've taken from the website of the Government of 12 Queensland wherein the article they published
13 has someone saying that there was no
14 multidisciplinary gender service in Queensland
15 before the establishment of the gender clinic at 16 Children's Health Queensland in 2017. And my 17 question to you is: Is it your understanding
18 that the gender clinic at Children's Health
19 Queensland first opened in 2017?
20 A Yes.
21 Q Okay. In Paragraph 105 of your declaration, 22 which spans two pages, but do you see the top of 23 Paragraph 105 there?
24 A Yes. Yep.
25 Q And you provide a citation here to Tegg, 2022,

Page 117

1 personal communication?
2 A Yep.
3 Q And I assume that the citation is to something
4 that was just relayed to you by whoever Tegg is?
5 A Yes.
6 Q And Tegg, I assume, is Simon Tegg?
7 A Yes.
8 Q And are you aware that Mr. Tegg is part of a
9 group called Fully Informed?
10 A Yes.
11 Q Are you aware that that group has played an 12 active role in advocating in favor of policies
13 in New Zealand that would prevent children from 14 accessing gender-affirming medications?
15 A Of course.
16 Q To your knowledge, has the data you received
17 from Mr. Tegg been published in any peer-review
18 journal?
19 A Not to my knowledge.
20 Q Okay. I'm going to scroll down just as an 21 example to Paragraph 107. Do you see that 22 there?
23 A Yeah.
24 Q The citation that you provide at the end of that 25 paragraph is to a -- your guess is as good as

1 mine on the pronunciation -- Respaut & Terhune,
2 2022; correct?
3 A Yep.
4 Q This article here, Respaut & Terhune, is it
5 published in a peer-review journal?
6 A I'd have to look at the reference.
7 Q I will just tell you that I found it and your
8 references are at the end of your declaration,
9 but Respaut & Terhune are actually reporters for 10 Reuters. Does that refresh your recollection?
11 A Well, I have quoted some journalistic pieces
12 from reputable journals, yes, because they have 13 access to information that's very difficult for 14 people, you know, to obtain by any other means,
15 so I have done that on a couple of occasions.
16 Q And when you have relied on media stories for 17 the information you provide in your expert
18 report, you provide the citation in roughly that 19 format, right, just the author and the year?
20 A Yeah. Yeah. That is the accepted APA
21 referencing convention.
22 Q Is it fair to say that there are several other
23 citations that you provide in your expert report
24 that are just media stories?
25 A There's a small handful out of 200 plus

Page 119

1 references and it's because I wasn't able to
2 source the information from anywhere else.
3 Q And every media story that you relied on, is 4 that cited in the references portion at the end
5 of your declaration?
6 A Yes.
7 Q I'm going to scroll down to Paragraph 131 real
8 quick. And I don't know how every single 9 paragraph I've chosen actually spans two pages,
10 so I apologize for that, but do you see the 11 beginning of Paragraph 131?
12 A I do.
13 Q And in this you are describing an article
14 published by Dr. Turban and others in 2021?
15 A Yes.
16 Q I'm going to bring up Exhibit 13 and ask you,
17 first and foremost, if Exhibit 13 is that 18 article that you're citing.
19 A Yep.
20 Q And, generally speaking, in your expert
21 declaration you're relying on Dr. Turban's
22 article to describe the detransition rates
23 amongst persons who had previously been 24 diagnosed with gender dysphoria. Is that a fair
25 summary?

1 A No, because in this study Turban conflates
2 transgender with gender diverse and that's a
3 fatal flaw for any study to do that.
4 Q Okay. And I apologize, that wasn't the portion
5 that I was trying to focus on and that's just my
6 verbiage, but you're relying on Dr. Turban's
7 study to discuss the detransition rates. Is 8 that a fair summary?
9 A Not detransition rates generally but the 10 detransition rates that he reports in that
11 study.
12 Q Okay. Do you understand that Dr. Turban's
13 article did not just seek to collect data on the 14 rate of so-called detransition but also sought
15 to analyze why persons detransitioned?
16 A I don't think he's capable of psychoanalyzing
17 anything and I don't necessarily think he 18 claimed to do so.
19 Q Do you understand that the report itself
20 purports to provide data on why persons
21 detransitioned?
22 A Yes.
23 Q Do you understand that the data set that he 24 relied on was of people who currently identify 25 or identified at the time of the article as

1 transgender?
2 A Or gender diverse.
3 Q Or gender diverse. I'm sorry. You understand
4 that; correct?
5 A Yes.
6 Q So every person in the article who had
7 "detransitioned" subsequently retransitioned.
8 Is that your understanding of what the article
9 purports to report?
10 A It's very difficult to work out exactly what it
11 purports to report.
12 Q Okay. Well, you're relying on the article to 13 talk about detransition rate and my question to 14 you was whether you were aware that everyone in 15 the article subsequently retransitioned;
16 correct?
17 A I'm not sure I'm aware of that now only because 18 it's been some time since I read the paper.
19 Q The article speaks for itself so if you're not 20 aware of it, that's perfectly fine and I don't 21 have to prolong the issue.
22 Are you aware that the article also
23 classified the reasons for "detransition" --
24 A Yes.
25 Q -- as either -- I'm sorry, I wasn't done with

Page 122

1 the question. Why don't we start there, though.
2 You're aware that the article also classified
3 the reasons for detransition; correct?
4 A Yes. Yes.
5 Q And it classified them, while having specific 6 categories as well, into external and internal
7 reasons. Is that your understanding?
8 A Yes.
9 Q And you're aware that the article found that the 10 overwhelming majority of persons with a history
11 of detransition cited at least one external
12 reason for that; correct?
13 A Yes.
14 Q Do you agree that that finding is consistent
15 with your social contagion hypothesis?
16 A Look, I'm afraid that I don't base any of my 17 inferences or conclusions on the work of Jack
18 Turban because it's almost all universally
19 flawed research, methodologically suspect, and 20 one cannot draw conclusions or make
21 generalizations from the purported conclusions
22 that he draws from his own research.
23 Q Well, imagine some professional other than 24 Dr. Turban who you respected. If they published
25 a scholarly article finding that of 100 persons

1 who "detransitioned," 82.5% of them cited at 2 least one external factor as a reason for their
3 detransition, would you believe that that is 4 consistent with your social contagion
5 hypothesis?
6 A Well, that eventuality has never occurred. It's 7 never been reported before or since, so it would
8 be merely an assumption to say that a reputable
9 scientist had found those results. So, to take 10 the next leap and say whether it was consistent
11 or not consistent with social contagion, my 12 hypothesis, is really not appropriate.
13 Q Okay. I'm going to click over to Exhibit 14.
14 MR. FISHER: Gavin, can I interrupt for 15 just one second?
16 MR. ROSE: Of course.
17 MR. FISHER: I just want to point something
18 out. Please go off the record for just one
19 second.
20 (A discussion was held off the record.)
21 Q Doctor, I have in front of you right now what 22 I've marked as Exhibit 14, and I assume that you
23 are familiar with this?
24 A Yes.
25 Q This is an article that you authored and was

Page 124

1 published in 2021. Do I have that correct?
2 A Yeah.
3 Q I understand that there is significant, I guess,
4 elaboration in your expert declaration, but is
5 it fair to say that many of the opinions you
6 express in your expert declaration are also
7 expressed in this article Exhibit 14?
8 A Yes.
9 Q And my understanding is that this article was 10 published in a collection of articles by various 11 Australian professionals. Do I have that right?
12 A Yes.
13 Q And the collection was devoted to the 14 "transgendering" of children and adolescents; is 15 that right?
16 A Yeah.
17 Q Was your article published anywhere else?
18 A Not at this point, no.
19 Q Has it been published -- I'm sorry, I was 20 confused by your response. By "not at this 21 point," do you mean not currently or do you mean
22 not at the time that it was published in the 23 collection of articles?
24 A No to both questions.
25 Q Okay. My understanding is that the article

1 collection was edited and published by a
2 sociologist in Australia named Geoffrey
3 Holloway. Do I have that right?
4 A Yes.
5 Q Were you compensated for writing or submitting
6 your article?
7 A No.
8 Q Okay. I'm pulling up Exhibit 15 and I will just 9 tell you before we get into this that I have not 10 taken the entire publication. What I have here,
11 I think, is the cover page, the table of 12 contents, and the editorial that appears as 13 Section 1 to the publication. Do you recognize 14 this as those portions of that collection in 15 which your article appear?
16 A Yes.
17 Q The editorial that appears indicates that one of 18 the key objectives of the publication was "to 19 promote the campaign for a national, public
20 inquiry into the transgendering of children and 21 adolescents." Do you see that?
22 A Yes.
23 Q Is that your understanding as one of the key
24 objectives of the publication?
25 A Yes.

1 Q Is that one of the reasons that you submitted
2 your article for inclusion?
3 A Yes.
4 Q What is the transgendering of children and
5 adolescents?
6 A The transgendering refers to a process of 7 persuasion that children are "born in the wrong
8 body," that their gender identity, however
9 defined, does not align with their natal sex,
10 and the transgendering is the process whereby
11 medical professionals assist the child to bring
12 their sexed body into line with their reported
13 gender identity using means such as puberty
14 blockade, cross-sex hormones, and sex
15 reassignment surgery.
16 Q In your declaration you refer on several 17 occasions to the "trans activist lobby." You're 18 familiar with that, I assume?
19 A Yes.
20 Q Is the transgendering of children and 21 adolescents being accomplished or attempted by 22 the trans activist lobby?
23 A Absolutely.
24 Q Is there anyone other than the trans activist
25 lobby that is performing the transgendering of

Page 127

1 children and adolescents?
2 A Well, the lobby is an open social network that
3 has a number of means of propagation, one of 4 which is the Internet, social media, the 5 misteaching of children, schools using
6 curricular that is scientifically incorrect, so
7 they're being coquetted at very young ages, five
8 and six.
9 If you have a look at some of the 10 educational materials and curricula, children as 11 young as five and six are being told that girls
12 can have penises and boys can have vulvas and 13 there are crude drawings, anatomical drawings,
14 for which children are not really ready and 15 should not be exposed. They're also being told 16 that they can have whatever gender identity they 17 like.
18 And, furthermore, you know, there are other
19 means of propagation including this whole
20 movement of drag queen story time where drag
21 queens go into schools and libraries, community
22 libraries, and other public places where very 23 young children assemble and play and they're 24 read transgender story books about transgender
25 theories and transgender (inaudible) and a

Page 128

1 gender unicorn where further incorrect
2 information is disseminated and propagated.
3 That's what we call the transgendering of 4 children.
5 Q Your article, Exhibit 14, were you solicited to 6 submit an article to that publication?
7 A Well, the word "solicited" is slightly loaded.
8 I was invited to contribute an article.
9 Q And I wasn't trying to load anything. I was 10 asking whether they invited you or whether they 11 had an open call for articles and you just 12 happened to submit one. But they invited you to 13 submit an article?
14 A I believe so, yes.
15 Q Okay. Did you submit your article for
16 publication anywhere else?
17 A Not that particular article. I did attempt to 18 get it published in a peer-reviewed journal and,
19 unsurprisingly, it was not considered
20 politically correct enough and so I was unable 21 to get it published.
22 Q What journal was that?
23 A The Archives of Sexual Behavior.
24 Q And when did you submit it to that journal?
25 A A version of it was submitted about a year ago,

1 maybe about that.
2 Q So after it appeared in this collection?
3 A Probably.
4 Q Other than that journal, did you submit it for
5 publication anywhere else?
6 A I've done versions of it under invitation to 7 other sources and publications and so forth.
8 It's never the same version. It's always 9 tailored and very much shorter than the 10 declaration. The declaration is probably the 11 longest and most detailed version of my work on 12 this topic.
13 Q Other than the one peer-reviewed journal from 14 which it was rejected, did you submit it to any 15 other peer-reviewed journals?
16 A I think I already answered that question and I
17 said no.
18 Q Oh, I'm sorry. I thought you had two. I'm not 19 trying to trick you up. I just don't have a
20 realtime transcript, so I apologize.
21 A The chapter that I submitted to the
22 Brunsell-Evans edited volume was peer-reviewed
23 and I just haven't really been focused on 24 peer-reviewed publications. (Inaudible) at the 25 moment having left the university to publish and

1 most of my colleagues have had the experience of 2 putting a huge amount of work into a paper and
3 not even get past the first round of reviews, so
4 I haven't pursued that avenue of dissemination,
5 but I do have over 200 international
6 peer-reviewed journal articles. So I'm not 7 incapable of reaching a bar for peer review, but
8 it's almost impossible to get articles critical
9 of the current transgender position past a peer
10 review.
11 Q Okay. I'm back in your declaration right now
12 and I am going to bring up, I guess, the end of 13 Paragraph 140 and the beginning of Paragraph
14 141. Do you see that in front of you?
15 A Yep, I do.
16 Q It appears to me that Paragraph 140 ends with a
17 quote from a British neurosurgeon about 18 lobotomy; correct?
19 A Yep.
20 Q And then in Paragraph 141 you apply this quote
21 to the practice of transgendering children and 22 young people. Is that a fair summary?
23 A That's a fair summary.
24 Q And you have in that paragraph a statement that 25 "These young people are also 'totally ruined as

Page 131

1 social human beings." I assume that by "These 2 young people" there, you're referring to
3 transgender persons?
4 A I'm referring to young people who have had their
5 bodies medically and surgically altered in a
6 vain attempt to change their sex.
7 Q What does it mean to be totally ruined as a
8 social human being?
9 A It means that one suffers, as I say later on in 10 that paragraph, pervasive mistreatment and 11 violence, severe economic hardship and 12 instability, discrimination, significant
13 negative physical and mental health impacts, and 14 so forth.
15 Q Do you believe that the plaintiff children in 16 this case have been totaled ruined as social 17 human beings?
18 A I think they have suffered enormously. They're 19 very vulnerable young people and, I mean,
20 obviously, I wouldn't apply that phraseology to 21 very young children, you know, who still have 22 the opportunity to be rehabilitated if they 23 received the right care rather than the 24 one-size-fits-all care of gender affirmation for 25 which, you know, they are, in all likelihood,

Page 132

1 not appropriate.
2 Q Sorry. One second, please. I'm sorry, Doctor,
3 my co-counsel heard something that I didn't hear
4 and we're probably both wrong on one front or 5 another.
6 What role does whether or not a person has 7 had gender-affirming surgery play in your 8 determination as to whether they are totally
9 ruined as social human beings?
10 A What role does surgery play in ruining them? Is 11 that what you're asking?
12 Q Sure, let's start there.
13 A Okay. It's a significant traumatic insult on 14 the body to remove perfectly healthy organs, the 15 result of which will impair their sexual 16 function. Many of them suffer ongoing and 17 significant medical complications including
18 chronic pain, infection, fistulas, bleeding,
19 and, you know, in the case of male to female,
20 they have to constantly dilate which I'm told
21 causes significant pain. Many of them are 22 sexually dysfunctional or are not able to feel
23 comfortable enough to expose their naked bodies
24 to other people. So, to the extent that those 25 situations have eventuated from sex reassignment

Page 133

1 surgery, the answer to your question would be
2 yes.
3 Q Do you believe that children who have been given
4 access to gender-affirming medications, either
5 puberty blockers or hormones, but have not had 6 surgery, do you believe that they are totally
7 ruined as social human beings?
8 A I don't think it's fair that you characterize my
9 view as everybody who's had gender-affirming
10 care of some kind or another are totally ruined
11 human beings because it depends on the age of 12 the child, it depends on the nature of the 13 treatment, what age it was commenced at, and,
14 you know, the kind of support they got and what 15 was the final outcome, but if your question was 16 about puberty blockade -- is that correct? Were 17 they totally ruined human beings?
18 Q I said puberty blockers or gender-affirming
19 hormones, but if you have different --
20 A Okay.
21 Q -- for the two, please --
22 A Well, some of the adverse effects of puberty
23 blockade are -- I mean, I'm sure I'm not going
24 to be able to include everything right at this 25 moment, but the ones that come to mind are

Page 134

1 questions of future fertility, bone density and
2 bone grown and their final height. It carries
3 significant risks of weight gain and there are a
4 significant number of children who report
5 headaches and hot flashes and, more recently, a
6 phenomenon called pseudotumor cerebri which, if
7 not treated promptly, may cause blindness.
8 So this drug is not safe and, in some
9 respects, it's not reversible because what it,
10 in fact, does is delay puberty including the 11 growth of the sexual organs, and if the child
12 remains on puberty blockers for longer than two 13 years, the growth of their sexual organs may not 14 return to what they would have been had they 15 been allowed to mature without puberty blockade.
16 The other thing that happens with puberty
17 blockade is, of course, their peers are going
18 through puberty and so all of the factors that 19 made them feel different and gender dysphoric in 20 the first place are often exacerbated because 21 they remain in a prepubertal state while what 22 used to be their best friends and peers are all
23 moving into the next stage of development which 24 is sexual maturation. So there are the possible
25 problems caused by puberty blockade.

Page 135

1 So, if we move on to the cross-sex
2 hormones, some of the problems with prescribing
3 testosterone to women are, of course, well,
4 first of all, the suppression of menses, the 5 permanent infertility, and ovarian uterine
6 atrophy that occurs with longer-term use often
7 necessitating the removal of a young woman's 8 uterus and ovaries because they atrophy and 9 cause enormous pain. Then we have clitoral
10 discomfort, vaginal atrophy which, of course,
11 makes sexual intercourse very difficult. They 12 often have cyst formation on the ovaries, pelvic 13 pain, a condition called polycythemia which 14 means that they develop too many red blood cells
15 which carry medical risks. There's increased
16 dyslipidemia, acne, oily skin. Some of them
17 develop hypertension, some of them develop Type
18 2 diabetes, mood swings, increased frustration
19 and anger and aggression, a risk for deep vein
20 thrombosis.
21 That's what I can think of at the moment.
22 I'm sure there are more, but, you know, these 23 drugs are touted as being, you know, oh, wow,
24 this is really going to get you what you want,
25 but these issues are skated over, at best.

Page 136

1 So, if we move to the adverse effects of
2 estrogen on males, we see things like, again,
3 deep vein thrombosis, high triglycerides. Some
4 of them will get hyperprolactinemia which means
5 they will start to have discharge from their
6 nipples. They can develop a condition called 7 hyperkalemia which is excessive potassium which 8 can really upset the metabolic balance in the 9 body which can affect the heart. Again, Type 2
10 diabetes, hypertension, weight gain.
11 Yeah, these drugs are dangerous drugs.
12 They're synthetic dangerous drugs to be pumping
13 into young children and adolescents.
14 Q And, just to be clear, Doctor --
15 A I beg your pardon.
16 Q I'm sorry, I didn't mean to cut you off there.
17 I thought you were done.
18 A Well, I'm sure I've missed something, but that 19 will have to do for now.
20 Q And, just to be clear, Doctor, you're not a
21 medical doctor, are you?
22 A I'm not.
23 Q In your CV you make reference to what appears to 24 me to be a two-part podcast called The Medical 25 Scam of the Century. Do you know what I'm

Page 137

1 talking about?
2 A I do know what you're talking about.
3 Q Is it fair to say that you consider the 4 "transgendering of children and adolescents" to 5 be the medical scam of the century?
6 A Yes.
7 Q You're familiar, I assume, with the Australian
8 Psychological Society; correct?
9 A Of course.
10 Q And, I'm sorry, I just forget. Is this one of 11 the organizations you're still a member of or is 12 it something --
13 A Yes, it is. Yes, I'm still a member.
14 Q And you're aware that this organization has 15 published an information sheet recommending
16 mental health practices that affirm transgender
17 people's experiences?
18 A Yes.
19 Q And I'm pulling up Exhibit 16 for you. Do you
20 see that in front of you?
21 A Yes.
22 Q You recognize this as that information sheet?
23 A Yes, I do.
24 Q And you understand that, along with this, the 25 same organization published a one-page summary

1 of its information sheet; correct?

2 A I do.

3 Q And I'm pulling up Exhibit 17. And you

4 recognize this as that summary; correct?

5 A Correct.

6 Q You previously mentioned the Royal Children's

7 Hospital in Melbourne; correct?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And my understanding is this is the largest

10 children's hospital in Melbourne?

11 A Yes, it is.

12 Q Is it the largest one in Australia? I just 13 don't know.

14 A No, there's the Westmead Children's Hospital and

15 the Prince of Whales Children's Hospital in New

16 South Wales.

17 Q But you're aware that it has published treatment

18 guidelines for the treatment of transgender and

19 gender diverse children and adolescents;

20 correct?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And what's the relationship, if you know,

23 between The Royal Children's Hospital and 24 AusPATH?

25 A Well, the director of the gender service at The

Page 139

1 Royal Children's Hospital is one of the

2 coauthors of AusPATH.

3 Q I'm pulling up for you what I have marked as

4 Exhibit 18. Do you see that in front of you?

5 A Yes, I do.

6 Q You recognize these as the treatment guidelines

7 that have been published by AusPATH for the

8 treatment of transgender and gender diverse

9 children and adolescents?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And these are the treatment guidelines that you

12 reference in your declaration occasionally as

13 the AusPATH guidelines?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And my understanding is that this is the 16 Australian body similar to WPATH?

17 A Yes.

18 Q We just briefly touched on this, but in your

19 declaration you repeatedly describe the

20 influence of the trans activist lobby and I'm

21 wondering -- and maybe I asked you this or

22 something close to this, but I'm wondering who,

23 in your estimation, comprises the trans activist

24 lobby.

25 A Look, I think in a footnote I said I'm using it

1 as a summary term for the vast network of

2 individuals and organizations who are

3 propagating gender-affirming care.

4 Q Do you believe that the trans activist lobby has

5 a leader or a leadership structure?

6 A The trans activist lobby, which is my summary

7 term so that I don't have to list multiple

8 individuals and organizations, is an open system

9 network so it's got many, many influencers and

10 many networks and subnetworks that have, you

11 know, been -- it's been a very, very effective

12 marketing machine.

13 So it's got very great many modes, you

14 know, that can attract children, so we've got

15 TikTok, we've got Insta -- Instagram not so

16 much. What are the others? I'm having a mental

17 block about these websites, but there's many of 18 them that spend a great deal of time, you know,

19 attracting young people to these sites and, you

20 know, talking to them in very positive terms

21 about transgenering and they can be whatever

22 gender they like. And it often attracts young

23 children who are marginalized and who are

24 looking for a group, looking to belong, looking

25 to be important and special.

1 And, yeah, so it's not any one individual,

2 but I did do a social network diagram for what's

3 going on in Australia and the network consists

4 of politicians, sadly the Australian Human

5 Rights Commission, the Commissioner for Children

6 and Young People, the eSafety Commissioner.

7 They're all singing the same song and there's no

8 capacity to (inaudible) the unanimous kind of 9 voice about gender-affirming care.

10 So, you know, I'm not being extremist or,

11 you know, it's not a conspiracy theory to call

12 it a trans lobby. It's a summary term for 13 what's happening in society currently and it's

14 very, very concerning.

15 Q And the deep dive that you said you took -- and

16 I'm sorry if I'm putting words into your mouth

17 -- into persons in power in Australia, it's my

18 understanding that that is available on your

19 website?

20 A What particularly?

21 Q I'm sorry, I will pull that up at the next break

22 and make sure we're talking about the same

23 thing.

24 I assume you believe that the trans

25 activist lobby is global and not limited to

Page 142

1 Australia; right?

2 A Oh, absolutely.

3 Q And The Royal Children's Hospital in Melbourne

4 is a member of the lobby?

5 A Look, I don't want you to put that kind of

6 notion into my mouth. I'm not kind of reifying

7 the transgender lobby as some, you know, star

8 chamber organization that's infiltrating the

9 world, but The Royal Children's Hospital acts as

10 a major harbor of this open social network

11 disseminating misinformation and advocating for

12 gender-affirming care very strongly, both

13 politically and in the courts. These are facts.

14 They're not part of a conspiracy theory.

15 The Australian standards of care have been

16 strongly influenced by the WPATH guidelines and

17 the WPATH guidelines have been strongly

18 influenced, so there's this mutual kind of

19 network of social influence to the point that

20 you would call it brute think because if you

21 have a look at the early documents like the

22 standards of care, you'll see the same authors

23 across different guidelines and standards of 24 care. So we've got Henriette van de Waal and

25 Peggy Cohen-Kettenis from the Amsterdam Clinic

1 who were authors of the 2006 Dutch protocol and

2 we see their names appear repeatedly on these

3 standards of care compilations over the last few

4 years as well as the Endocrine Society. And

5 there are other names as well that keep coming

6 up like Louie Myer (phonetic) and so forth.

7 So there is this group think that has

8 developed around the guidelines including the

9 Australian Psychological Society. It's one

10 voice speaking and there's no room for doubt.

11 And, so, there is this collective

12 rationalization of thinking where there's a lot

13 of -- you know, there's no admission of any

14 other alternative point of view. They don't 15 survey the alternatives and every time an

16 alternative is offered like social contagion or

17 like the fact that many of these gender diverse

18 children will grow up to be gay adults if left

19 alone. They don't admit any other possible way

20 of helping and managing these young people, so

21 they do not appraise properly the risks of their

22 own preferred solution which is gender-affirming

23 care. They scoff at the idea of the 24 reversibility of some of their treatments. They

25 selectively choose information and they have

1 this err of invulnerability that if you belong

2 to this group of gender-affirming care,

3 clinicians, politicians, teachers, et cetera,

4 then we have the truth. We have the absolute

5 truth. And all I'm saying, people outside of

6 that network are saying: Please think about

7 alternatives, please think about possible harm,

8 please think about irreversibility. And it's

9 not happening.

10 Q Is it fair to say that you believe that the 11 American Medical Association has been improperly

12 influenced by the trans activist lobby?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Is it fair to say that you believe the American

15 Psychiatric Association has been improperly

16 influenced?

17 A Yes.

18 Q How about the American Psychological

19 Association?

20 A Look, I've put a big list in my declaration and

21 if you have a look at all of their position

22 statements, there's very little variation, you

23 know, between them and it's --

24 Q I'm sorry, Doctor. We're gonna be here all

25 night if you don't just answer the question.

Page 145

1 A Okay.

2 Q The question was whether you believe the

3 American Psychological Association has been

4 improperly influenced by the trans activist --

5 A Yes.

6 Q And the same for the Endocrine Society?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Earlier in your deposition I showed you what was

9 Exhibit 8, the statement by the CAAPS

10 organization that had been signed by a couple

11 dozen other organizations. Do you remember that

12 document?

13 A Yes, I do.

14 Q Is it fair to say that you believe that each of 15 those organizations has been improperly

16 influenced by the trans activist lobby?

17 A Well, they're part of it so they influence each

18 other. It's a bidirectional influence.

19 Q And the various Australian state governments

20 that have passed bans on conversion therapy,

21 have they been improperly influenced by the 22 trans activist lobby?

23 A Well, I mean, I'm afraid I have to seriously

24 question their intellectual capacity to put a

25 bill like the banning of conversion therapy into

Page 146

1 parliament. It's an extremely poorly-worded
2 document and it's unlikely to catch anyone in
3 its net, but what it has done is scare off
4 therapists from treating these children in any
5 way whatsoever. So now there is an extreme
6 shortage of skilled child and adolescent
7 therapists to help these young people because
8 almost no one wants to touch this patient group
9 because of that legislation.
10 Q You understand, I assume, that a federal judge
11 in the Alabama case where you submitted an 12 expert report issued an injunction against the 13 statute banning certain types of 14 gender-affirming care for minors; correct?
15 A Issued an injunction against gender-affirming
16 care?
17 Q I'm sorry, that's lawyer talk. Issued an order
18 for preventing the statute from taking effect.
19 A Yes.
20 Q Is it your position that that judge was 21 improperly influenced by the trans activist
22 lobby?
23 A I don't have an opinion on that.
24 Q I'm pulling up for you what I have marked as 25 Exhibit 19. Do you see that document in front

1 of you?
2 A Yes.
3 Q I assume you're familiar with this?
4 A Yes.
5 Q These are the informed consent standards that
6 AusPATH has promulgated for gender-affirming
7 hormone therapy?
8 A Yeah.
9 Q I'm popping Exhibit 18 back up for you and my 10 question to you is whether you use any portion
11 of this document, the AusPATH treatment
12 guidelines, when you provide therapy to 13 transgender persons or persons who identify as
14 transgender.
15 A Was your question: Is there any part of the 16 document that says children should have therapy?
17 Q My question was whether there's any portion of 18 this document that you rely on when treating a
19 patient who walks through your door.
20 A No.
21 Q And is the same true for Exhibit 19, the 22 informed consent standards?
23 A There are more general informed consent
24 standards that every practicing clinician must 25 adhere to, but the gender-affirming therapists

Page 148

1 don't even adhere to their own standards of
2 informed consent and most of them don't even
3 understand what constitutes informed consent.
4 MR. ROSE: Off the record for a sec.
5 (A discussion was held off the record.)
6 Q Doctor, you ready to power forward?
7 A Sure.
8 Q Chapter 2 of your declaration -- excuse me. You
9 have a separate what you call chapter of your 10 declaration that specifically concerns the named
11 plaintiffs in this case; is that fair?
12 A Yeah.
13 MR. ROSE: And, Tom, before we plow
14 forward, just a matter of housekeeping. We want
15 to make sure that Exhibits B, C, D, and E of the 16 doctor's declaration as well as I think they 17 will be Exhibits 20 and 21 of this deposition
18 and any testimony about those are maintained as 19 confidential. I assume that's not an issue and 20 we can obviously figure out how that needs to 21 work for the Court?
22 MR. FISHER: Right. Agreed. No objection
23 to that.
24 Q Okay, Doctor. Just very generally, have you
25 personally evaluated any of the plaintiffs?

Page 149

1 A As stated in my report, no, I haven't.
2 Q Have you interviewed them at any time?
3 A No.
4 Q Have you interviewed any of their parents?
5 A No.
6 Q Have you ever communicated in any fashion with 7 either them or their parents?
8 A No.
9 Q Have you ever communicated about the plaintiffs
10 with any professional who has evaluated or 11 treated any of them?
12 A No.
13 Q It's fair to say that your opinions about them
14 come exclusively from a review of the medical 15 records that you were provided; is that correct?
16 A As stated in my report.
17 Q Sorry. That's a yes?
18 A Yes.
19 Q Do you have an understanding as to whether each
20 of the plaintiffs received mental health therapy
21 before seeking or being prescribed either
22 puberty blockers or gender-affirming hormones?
23 A Did you say do I have an understanding?
24 Q Do you understand whether the plaintiffs
25 received mental health therapy before seeking or

Page 150

1 being prescribed gender-affirming medications
2 including puberty blockers?
3 A It wasn't entirely clear exactly what they
4 received by way of psychotherapeutic support
5 because, as I say, in the documents before me
6 only vague references were made. So I didn't
7 see any process notes, I didn't see any case
8 formulation, I didn't see any progress, goals,
9 or anything that one would normally see
10 documented in a clinical process.
11 Q Okay. I am bringing back up your expert report,
12 Exhibit 2. Do you see that in front of you?
13 A Yeah.
14 Q I am going to scroll down to Paragraph 198.
15 Okay. Do you see Paragraph 198 and the 16 associated footnote 34?
17 A Yes.
18 Q In this portion of your declaration you're 19 describing a visit that Plaintiff K.C. had with 20 the doctor managing her Type 1 diabetes. Do you
21 see that?
22 A Yeah.
23 Q And you underscore in your report that K.C. was 24 reported to have "no dysmorphic features." Do
25 you see that language?

Page 151

1 A Yes.
2 Q And you speculate in the footnote that it's 3 unclear whether the doctor meant dysphoric or 4 dysmorphic or was --
5 A Yes.
6 Q -- using the terms interchangeably; is that
7 correct?
8 A Yes.
9 Q I assume you understand that gender dysphoria
10 and body dysmorphic disorder are two entirely
11 separate diagnoses; right?
12 A They're not two entirely separate diagnoses, but 13 they have different emphases.
14 Q And they're listed separately in the DSM;
15 correct?
16 A Yes.
17 Q Do you have an understanding that persons with 18 diabetes are more likely to develop an eating
19 disorder that might lead to body dysmorphia?
20 A Yes.
21 Q So do you agree that for a doctor managing a
22 patient's diabetes whether a patient displays
23 dysmorphic features might be particularly 24 noteworthy?
25 A Yes.

1 Q But you still think the diabetes doctor, despite
2 using the phrase "dysmorphic features," might
3 have been intending to reference K.C.'s gender
4 dysphoria?
5 A Well, he then goes on to say "sweet transgender
6 girl," so it's ambiguous.
7 Q Okay. I'm going to scroll down to Paragraph
8 229. Do you see that in front of you?
9 A Yes. Yes.
10 Q You're describing here an assessment of M.W.
11 that you indicate took place on January 4th,
12 2022. Is that a fair statement?
13 A Yes.
14 Q My review of the medical records, I'll just tell
15 you, does not reveal anything from January 4th
16 but does indicate that M.W. had an initial 17 evaluation at Riley Gender Health Connect on 18 April 14th, 4/14/22. Is it possible that you
19 simply got the dates wrong?
20 A Well, given that I had to scroll through
21 literally thousands of pages on Notepad
22 formatting, it is possible I got the date wrong.
23 And, also, Americans reverse the date and month
24 and it may have occurred for one of those two 25 reasons.

Page 153

1 Q I understand that and I'm not blaming you. And,
2 for the record, I did go through other portions
3 of your declaration to see whether you were 4 adopting the American style of month/day or 5 whether you were not. I'm certainly not blaming
6 you.
7 In your report of this encounter you
8 indicate that M.W. was neutral about certain 9 secondary sexual characteristics, satisfied with 10 other things, and also neutral about
11 characteristics such as hair, voice, and general
12 appearance. I understand that I'm not quoting
13 everything, but you see the language I'm 14 referencing; right?
15 A Yes. Yes.
16 Q And you underlined "voice"; right?
17 A Uh-huh.
18 Q Sorry. Yes?
19 A Yes.
20 Q Why did you underline "voice"?
21 A Because voice is one of the characteristics
22 around which young people claim extreme
23 dysphoria.
24 Q So is it fair to say that you underlined "voice"
25 because you thought M.W. being neutral about

Page 154

1 that was more noteworthy than some of the other
2 items reported?
3 A Yes.
4 Q I'm going to flip over to what I've marked as 5 Exhibit 20 which, as you will see, is the 6 encounter on April 14th, 2022. And I will
7 scroll down to, I guess, Page 3 of the document
8 using the PDF page numbers. I have highlighted
9 a couple aspects of the report there. Do you
10 see the portions I have highlighted?
11 A Yes.
12 Q And I will just tell you that this -- and I'm 13 not trying to trick you. I can scroll back and 14 forth if you want me to. The language I
15 highlighted matches almost verbatim the language
16 that you report in Paragraph 229 of your 17 declaration. Is it fair to say that this is the 18 document that you were looking at?
19 A Well, I didn't get it in that form. In that 20 form it's actually interpretable, but I got it
21 in incredibly narrow paragraphs and the average
22 scores were kind of above the text
23 interpretation so it was quite difficult for me
24 to make sense of it. I mean, presented like 25 that, it looks much more interpretable than the

Page 155

1 form that I got it in which was a Notepad
2 document.
3 Q So is it possible that you misinterpreted M.W.'s
4 medical records as you were going through them?
5 A I hope I didn't. I took great care not to, but 6 it looks as if I did not misinterpret anything
7 on this occasion.
8 Q Okay. And all of the medical records that you
9 reviewed, did you receive them all in the same
10 format that was difficult to read?
11 A Most of them were in Notepad format. I got a
12 couple that were scanned Word or PDF documents,
13 but they weren't like -- the text was fuzzy, and 14 they were the two primary forms in which I got 15 the records.
16 Q And the Notepad format was the one that you were 17 indicating was difficult to read?
18 A Yeah, and I had hundreds of those files to go
19 through.
20 Q Okay. I will scroll up just a little bit on 21 Exhibit 20 now to the top of that Page 3. It
22 looks to me like what Page 3 is doing here is 23 providing a summary of the intake paperwork that
24 M.W. and, under the caregiver's portion, M.W.'s
25 parents completed. Is that fair?

Page 156

1 A Yeah.
2 Q I assume you were provided a copy of that
3 pre-intake paperwork itself as well?
4 A As I said, but not in this form.
5 Q Okay. I understand the formatting might have 6 changed, but I'm flipping over to Exhibit 21 and 7 I will ask you whether this appears to you to be 8 the pre-intake paperwork for M.W. that is 9 summarized in Exhibit 20.
10 A I don't believe I've seen that document.
11 Q Okay. Is there a reason you would not have seen
12 it?
13 A I don't know. I would remember that if I had 14 seen it and I haven't seen it.
15 Q I'm going to scroll down just a little and I
16 will represent to you this is the self-report
17 portion and I'm on Page 6 right now. Do you see 18 the highlighted portion about how M.W. feels 19 about his breasts?
20 A Yes.
21 Q And you acknowledge that he indicates that he 22 was very dissatisfied with them?
23 A Yep.
24 Q I'm scrolling down just a little bit farther.
25 You see the same thing about voice and chest?

Page 157

1 A Yes.
2 Q And I'm looking at Page 7 now, but you see that
3 M.W. actually reported that he was very
4 dissatisfied with his voice?
5 A Yes.
6 Q So is it fair to say that the statement in your 7 declaration that M.W. was neutral about his 8 voice is inaccurate?
9 A According to the document that I reviewed, no,
10 it's not inaccurate because that was the 11 information in front of me, but, as I said in 12 the beginning of my Chapter 2, that had I been 13 presented with any information subsequent to my 14 report, it might cause me to change my opinion.
15 And just because a child says they're
16 dissatisfied with their breasts and voice, it
17 doesn't mean that you automatically jump into a
18 diagnosis of gender dysphoria and send them off
19 for gender-affirming care.
20 Q Okay. Well, we've established that Exhibit 20
21 which indicates "Tended to report feeling
22 neutral about characteristics such as hair,
23 voice, and general appearance" is what you were 24 looking at for that portion of your declaration;
25 correct?

Page 158

1 A Correct.

2 Q I'm going to scroll up on the same document then

3 to the top of Page 2 where it says that M.W.

4 "Reports feeling significant dysphoria related

5 to chest, voice, and menstrual periods." Do you

6 see that?

7 A Yep.

8 Q And do you still think it was accurate for you

9 to report that M.W. is neutral about his voice?

10 A From the documents that were in front of me, I

11 reported that accurately.

12 Q This is part of the same document, Doctor.

13 A Look, I would like you to have a look at the 14 Notepad files that I was sent. They were

15 disjointed. They didn't necessarily even follow

16 one sentence continuing on the next line.

17 Sometimes I had to scroll down several lines to 18 get the end of a sentence. I was under extreme

19 time pressure. I was given some medical records

20 two days before I had to file my report. I was

21 up all night for three nights in a row trying to 22 complete the work.

23 But, even under all of those circumstances,

24 even if a young child reports dysphoria in

25 relation to chest, voice, and menstrual periods,

Page 159

1 I do not jump to the conclusion that this child

2 is suitable for gender-affirmation care.

3 Q And the circumstances you described about your

4 difficulties reviewing the medical records, I

5 assume that applies to the medical records of 6 all four plaintiffs?

7 A Well, most of them were given to me in that

8 format, in Notepad format.

9 Q Is that a yes?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Okay.

12 A But I didn't just rely on those medical records.

13 I also was given the declarations of the parents

14 and I had the parent reports from their lawyers

15 as well, so it was multiple sources of 16 information.

17 Q I'm back in Paragraph 229 of your declaration.

18 In the middle of this paragraph you say "there

19 is no evidence of a marked incongruence between

20 M.W.'s experienced/expressed gender and (all)

21 primary and/or secondary sex characteristics."

22 Do you see the language that I have just quoted?

23 A Yeah.

24 Q Why is "all" in parentheses?

25 A Because, generally speaking, the child would

Page 160

1 need to express a global dissatisfaction with

2 their body overall. I mean, you know, quite

3 often children will not like something about

4 themselves. I don't like my hips or I don't

5 like my shoulders. That doesn't make them

6 either body dysmorphic or gender dysphoric.

7 So, perhaps, it would've been better to put

8 "most" rather than "all," but I was just drawing

9 that point so that people wouldn't misconstrue

10 that one dissatisfaction or a few

11 dissatisfactions would meet criteria.

12 Q Let me put it this way, Doctor. Is "all" in 13 parentheses because the rest of that sentence is

14 a direct quote from the DSM-5 criteria for

15 gender dysphoria?

16 A Yes, it is. I am quoting from the criteria from 17 DSM.

18 Q So you added the word "all" to the criteria?

19 A Well, I probably did add it, yes, for emphasis.

20 Q Okay. Doctor, I was reading an interview that's 21 linked from your website to a website called

22 xxxkidernet.com. Are you familiar with the 23 interview that I'm referencing?

24 A Yep.

25 Q And I don't have it up in front of me, but I did

Page 161

1 copy this quote. And I'm going to read this

2 quote to you and then the questions I'm going to

3 ask is going to be whether you recall making

4 this statement and whether it is an accurate

5 statement of your beliefs.

6 You were quoted as saying, "Transgender

7 advocates state that in transgenderism -- the 8 belief/assumption that one has been born in the 9 wrong body -- the body must be aligned to one's

10 gender belief, not one's belief to one's

11 biological body. They assume that the mind is 12 correct in its perceptions and beliefs and the 13 body is diseased and must be treated."

14 Do you recall making that statement or

15 something similar to it?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And is what I quoted an accurate statement of 18 your beliefs?

19 A Yes.

20 Q When you provide psychotherapy to a transgender

21 patient or a patient identifying as transgender,

22 is one of your methods to attempt to align their

23 belief to their biological body?

24 A This is a grave misunderstanding of the process

25 of exploratory psychodynamic psychotherapy. I

Page 162

1 don't try to do anything except provide a safe
2 space for the young person to know their true
3 feelings and to express them, and whatever
4 conclusion they draw at the end of the 5 psychotherapeutic process is not any attempt on 6 the part of the therapist to engineer a
7 particular outcome.

8 And what I find in the majority of cases is 9 that after the first few sessions the child just 10 stops talking about gender dysphoria and wanting 11 to transition and we start talking about their 12 emotional distress and pain in relationship to 13 what is happening in their primary attachment
14 relationships and also other issues that are of 15 great concern to them such as bullying and 16 discrimination, isolation, loneliness, a fear of 17 not meeting expectations. Many of them have 18 very deeply entrenched self-punishment, internalized
19 self-punishment that need to be dealt with and 20 often we have to deal with how they manage their 21 emotional distress through self harm.

22 So every time a child or anybody comes into 23 an exploratory psychodynamic psychotherapy it's 24 what's on the mind of the patient, what the 25 patient brings to that session that the

Page 163

1 therapist focuses on. So, no, I do not have a
2 goal of aligning anything with anything else.

3 Q Okay.

4 A It's to support the young person to understand
5 themselves better.

6 Q Okay, Doctor. I'm going to pull up what I have
7 marked as Exhibit 22. Do you see that in front
8 of you?

9 A Uh-huh.

10 Q Sorry. ?

11 A Yes.

12 Q That's for the court reporter, not for me.

13 A I understand. I understand.

14 Q You recognize this as a presentation that you
15 gave in November 2021 to the organization that 16 we previously called SEGM?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And this presentation is not listed on your CV.
19 Does this refresh your recollection as to 20 whether there are presentations that you
21 omitted?

22 A Right. Okay. I'll be sure to add it next time.

23 Q Was this presentation given at a conference of 24 some sort?

25 MR. ROSE: You're on mute, Tom, if you're

Page 164

1 trying to talk.

2 MR. FISHER: Is there any reason you can
3 just make it bigger for the doctor?

4 MR. ROSE: Oh, I had no idea, Tom.

5 Q I'm sorry, Doctor, I didn't realize you were 6 leaning forward to try to read it.

7 A Right.

8 Q Is this better for you?

9 A Yes. Thank you. Yes.

10 Q Okay. I'm sorry, Doctor, let me repeat the 11 question. The question was whether this 12 presentation was given at a conference of some 13 sort.

14 A Yes, it was, yes.

15 Q Did you give it in person, online?

16 A Given that it's November '21, it was probably 17 online.

18 Q It would have been a conference of the Society
19 for Evidence-based Gender Medicine?

20 A No, not necessarily. I'm just characterizing --
21 I'm just situating myself as a member of that 22 organization.

23 Q Gotcha. And I don't know where I got this from,
24 but it's in my notes so I'll just ask you. Was 25 this given at a conference of the National

Page 165

1 Association of Practicing Psychiatrists?

2 A Oh, that's highly likely, yes.

3 Q I'm positive I saw it somewhere, but I don't 4 know where I got that from. Is that an
5 Australian organization?

6 A Yeah, it's a national organization, yes.

7 Q But the nation of Australia?

8 A The nation of Australia.

9 Q I assumed by how practicing was spelled.

10 Okay. And what we have here is the 11 PowerPoint, I assume, that accompanied this 12 presentation?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Did you create the PowerPoint yourself?

15 A Yes, I did. This is a presentation of a 16 distillation of my theory development of what is 17 required in assessment and therapy of young
18 people presenting with gender dysphoria, so,
19 yeah, it is a model that I've developed.

20 Q Okay. And on the very last page of your 21 presentation you included an image of what 22 appears to be a rose with the verbiage "TRANS IS 23 NOT BEAUTIFUL," correct?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Do you consider this image to be a hateful one?

Page 166

1 A The image with or without the "NOT"?

2 Q As you presented it at the conference.

3 A Hate was not in my heart. Why didn't you show

4 more interest in the slides in between?

5 MR. ROSE: Doctor, I have no further

6 questions. Thank you very much for your time

7 this morning for you/this evening for us.

8 MR. FISHER: Can we take maybe 20 minutes?

9 (A recess was taken.)

10 CROSS-EXAMINATION,

11 QUESTIONS BY THOMAS M. FISHER:

12 Q Dianna, you were asked earlier by Mr. Rose about

13 -- and this was a while ago so I'm certainly

14 paraphrasing here, but I think the discussion

15 was treatment of children who had started

16 puberty blockers. Do you remember that

17 discussion?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And I think the question from Mr. Rose was

20 something along the lines of: Well, did you

21 continue treating them, that child? And you

22 said no. And then the follow-up, of course,

23 was: Well, why not? And your response was

24 something like: Well, they had found the magic

25 solution. And that was the end of the

Page 167

1 discussion. Do you remember that?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Okay. So I was hoping you could explain to us a

4 little bit more about what you meant when you

5 said that.

6 A What I meant was that families go through a lot

7 of heartache when a child declares themselves

8 transgender, not all but most, and parents have

9 difficulty tolerating their children's distress

10 and most parents want to do what's going to make

11 their children happy. And by "magic solution,"

12 I'm referring to a treatment that they've been

13 convinced is going to improve their child's not

14 only gender dysphoria but all the comorbid

15 presentations that the child has as well.

16 And there is, not always but very, very

17 often, a honeymoon period where everything seems

18 to settle down. It's like, you know, the child

19 is getting this almost magic treatment that's

20 going to take away all the gender dysphoria and

21 everybody then breathes a sigh of relief, but

22 they're really breathing a sigh of relief over

23 this very short-term period and all the 24 complications that may come in the future are

25 brushed aside because peace is being restored

Page 168

1 and the child appears happier in the short term.

2 But most studies show that pubic blockade

3 has no positive effect on mental health

4 presentations. It's just a placebo effect, but

5 it feels like magic at the time.

6 Q So, in that circumstance then, because there was

7 that honeymoon period, the family would

8 discontinue seeing you at that point?

9 A Yes. Yes, they would discontinue other forms of 10 therapy.

11 Q Okay. Alright. Later in Mr. Rose's questioning

12 he asked about so-called conversion therapy bans

13 in some of the Australian states. Do you recall

14 that discussion?

15 A Yes, I do.

16 Q And I think that the sum and substance was

17 pretty much all of those so-called conversion

18 therapy bans were materially identical. Is that

19 your recollection?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Tell us about what that means, the conversion

22 therapy bans that those Australian states have

23 enacted. What, in particular, are they trying

24 to ban?

25 A Well, they're actually based on a completely and

Page 169

1 utter red herring. I don't know if you know

2 that expression in America, but it means that

3 it's a (inaudible). It's just based on

4 shimmering sand because what they're claiming --

5 like conversion therapy is defined as trying to

6 change the sexual orientation of homosexual

7 individuals to heterosexual, and there was some

8 conversion therapy practiced many, many years

9 ago, decades ago, and maybe there are tiny

10 little pockets in religious groups and so forth

11 that is still trying to practice that but it's

12 certainly not accepted in mainstream medicine,

13 and it has never been practiced in its form,

14 which was created for homosexuality, on

15 transgender individuals. So there is no such

16 thing as conversion therapy for transgender

17 individuals.

18 And the definition of conversion therapy is 19 a question that Mr. Rose put to me about my

20 psychotherapy and that is: Do you aim to change

21 the child's perception of the gender identity to

22 align with their body? Now, that's conversion

23 therapy, but psychotherapy doesn't try to do

24 that.

25 So the only conversion therapy is

Page 170

1 gender-affirming care. It doesn't exist in any
2 other form and it's a defunct treatment. It's 3 proven to be inhumane, unethical, and medically
4 ineffective. So it's all part, I'm sorry to 5 say, you know, the transgender machinery,
6 building up straw men to attack and pull down,
7 and then there was so much dancing in the street
8 when these conversion therapy laws got through 9 parliament.

10 Q What can you do in your practice that
11 psychologists in those states with conversion
12 therapy bans cannot do when it comes to treating
13 gender dysphoria?

14 A Well, there's two ways of looking at it. One is 15 that anything that isn't gender-affirming care
16 may be interpreted as conversion therapy, but 17 you can only be prosecuted under that act if an 18 actual patient makes a complaint about you. So
19 a trans group or an advocacy group making a
20 complaint that they know you're practicing
21 something other than gender-affirming care
22 cannot bring a complaint, so the patient or the 23 patient's parent needs to directly complain
24 about you.

25 But, in reality, it carries 18 months jail

Page 171

1 and a $30,000 fine if you're convicted under
2 this act, but I doubt very much whether anybody
3 could be convicted under that act because
4 conversion therapy is not even defined properly
5 in these new laws and it's never been practiced
6 to anybody's knowledge in the transgender space.

7 Q But, just to be clear, your understanding of 8 those laws is that they mean to say that 9 anything other than gender-affirming care is 10 conversion therapy?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. Then at the end of Mr. Rose's 13 questioning, he brought up a slide at the end of 14 a long presentation that you gave, I think, and 15 -- well, first of all, do you recall what that 16 presentation was?

17 A Yes, I do. Yes, I was presenting my new model
18 of exploratory psychodynamic psychotherapy
19 starting with what I thought were essential
20 assessment examinations that need to be done at 21 the beginning, and then I outlined some of what
22 I believe underlies the genesis of gender
23 dysphoria and then how I work with the family to 24 resolve some of those issues.

25 Q Well, and when Mr. Rose was asking you about the

Page 172

1 last slide, you, I think, made a comment about
2 how you wished he would be more interested in
3 what came before that. Do you remember making
4 that comment?

5 A Yes, I do. Yes.

6 Q I was wondering what sparked that. What was it
7 that you had hoped Mr. Rose would have been more
8 interested in?

9 A Well, it was a very serious presentation
10 presenting a new model of therapy that has not
11 been presented before or outlined, you know,
12 actually put into a coherent form so that
13 clinicians can meet and discuss, compare notes,
14 and, you know, talk about the process of 15 psychotherapy. So it was the result of, you
16 know, four to five years of very intense study
17 on the subject and, you know, working constantly
18 with young gender dysphoric people, and to go to 19 the last slide, I mean, all we saw was the first 20 slide and the last slide, which I think is a
21 little bit cheap.

22 Q And what about that last slide that said, as I
23 reall, it had said "TRANS IS BEAUTIFUL" and you
24 put the word "NOT" in, "TRANS IS NOT BEAUTIFUL."
25 Do you remember that?

Page 173

1 A Yes, I do, yes.

2 Q What did you mean by that?

3 A Well, if you look at the foregoing slides, you
4 would see that the life of young people after 5 they transition is actually worse in so many
6 ways compared to before they transition. Yes,
7 they're already having difficulties, there are a
8 lot of problems, a lot of comorbidities, but 9 when you look at studies that show what happens
10 to these young people after they transition,
11 that's when the suicide rate increases.

12 A long-term Swedish study that followed up
13 people who'd had transgender surgery for 30
14 years showed that their suicide rate was 19
15 times higher than in the general population
16 matched for age and sex. So transgender
17 cross-sex hormones and sex reassignment surgery
18 does not cure suicidality. It actually
19 exacerbates it.

20 And the same goes for the other common
21 comorbidities that you see with young people
22 premorbid and that is vastly increased rates of 23 depression, suicide, self harm, acting out,
24 unemployment, homelessness.

25 And that was my summary way of saying

Page 174

1 becoming transgender is not beautiful. In other
2 words, it's not la dolce vita, the beautiful
3 life that people envisage/fantasize about
4 because their previous life was so difficult and
5 in some cases traumatic. So it was part of a
6 whole kind of complex constellation of factors
7 that I had been talking about previously.
8 MR. FISHER: I don't have any further
9 questions.
10 MR. ROSE: Just another hour, hour and a 11 half maybe, Doctor. Doctor, it's 11 o'clock at 12 night here. My boss is in my office and I have 13 been told that if I ask you a single question, I
14 will be fired on the spot, so I have no further
15 questions.
16 MR. FISHER: We'll take signature.
17 AND FURTHER THE DEPONENT SAITH NOT.

CORRECTION

Correction: Parent reports of adolescents and young adults perceived to show signs of a rapid onset of gender dysphoria

Lisa Littman

Notice of republication

After publication of this article [1], questions were raised that prompted the journal to conduct a post-publication reassessment of the article, involving senior members of the journal's editorial team, two Academic Editors, a statistics reviewer, and an external expert reviewer. The post-publication review identified issues that needed to be addressed to ensure the article meets PLOS ONE's publication criteria. Given the nature of the issues in this case, the PLOS ONE Editors decided to republish the article, replacing the original version of record with a revised version in which the author has updated the Title, Abstract, Introduction, Discussion, and Conclusion sections, to address the concerns raised in the editorial reassessment. The Materials and methods section was updated to include new information and more detailed descriptions about recruitment sites and to remove two figures due to copyright restrictions. Other than the addition of a few missing values in Table 13, the Results section is unchanged in the updated version of the article. The Competing Interests statement and the Data Availability statement have also been updated in the revised version. The original version of the published article is appended to this Correction as S1 File.

This Correction Notice serves to provide additional clarifications and context for the article in response to questions raised during the post-publication review of this work.

Emphasis that this is a study of parental observations which serves to develop hypotheses

This study of parent observations and interpretations serves to develop the hypotheses that rapid-onset gender dysphoria is a phenomenon and that social influences, parent-child conflict, and maladaptive coping mechanisms may be contributing factors for some individuals. Rapid-onset gender dysphoria (ROGD) is not a formal mental health diagnosis at this time. This report did not collect data from the adolescents and young adults (AYAs) or clinicians and therefore does not validate the phenomenon. Additional research that includes AYAs, along with consensus among experts in the field, will be needed to determine if what is described here as rapid-onset gender dysphoria (ROGD) will become a formal diagnosis. Furthermore, the use of the term, rapid-onset gender dysphoria should be used cautiously by clinicians and parents to describe youth who appear to fall into this category. The term should not be used in a way to imply that it explains the experiences of all gender dysphoric youth nor should it be used to stigmatize vulnerable individuals. This article has been revised to better reflect that these parent reports provide information that can be used to develop hypotheses about factors that may contribute to the onset and/or expression of gender dysphoria among this demographic group.

Because this is a study of parent reports, there is some information about the AYAs that the parents would not have access to and the answers might reflect parent perspectives. Examples where parent answers reflect their perspective of the AYA include answers concerning the child's mental well-being, the parent-child relationship, and whether the child has high expectations about transitioning. However, it is also important to note that there are other survey items where the parent would have direct access to information about their child and that those answers reflect items that can be directly observed. Examples of this type include age, natal sex, diagnoses given by medical providers in the presence of the parent, directly observed behaviors of the child and the child's friend group, school performance, whether the child has dropped out or required a leave of absence from school, has been unable to hold a job, whether the child went to a clinic, or received treatment. Readers are reminded to keep in mind that this is a study of parent report and consideration of what information parents may or may not have access to is an important element of the findings.

Questions on whether the article describes adolescent-onset gender dysphoria or if it describes something new

There is some controversy over whether what is described as rapid onset of gender dysphoria, particularly in natal females, falls under the existing definition of late-onset or adolescent-onset gender dysphoria or whether it represents a new kind of development or presentation. This controversy might be a false dichotomy because both might be true. Although recent observations of adolescents and young adults who are predominantly natal female having a sudden onset of gender dysphoria symptoms beginning during or after puberty might technically fall under the existing definitions and criteria for adolescent and adult gender dysphoria [2], the substantial change in the demographics of patients presenting for care, the inversion of the sex ratio with disproportionate increase in adolescent natal females [3–5], and the new phenomenon of natal females exhibiting adolescent-onset and late-onset gender dysphoria [6–8] signal that something new may be happening as well. These changes may indicate that there are new etiologies leading to gender dysphoria and it is unclear, particularly without research about these new populations, whether gender dysphoria in this context has the same outcomes, desistence and persistence rates, and response to treatment as the gender dysphorias that have been previously studied.

Expanded discussion of qualitative analyses

Because this is a descriptive, exploratory study into a new topic with very little existing data, the addition of the qualitative analysis of two questions in addition to the quantitative analysis allowed for a greater depth of information to be used in the development of hypotheses. A grounded theory approach was selected as the strategy of choice for handling the qualitative data. There were two reviewers consisting of a professor with a PhD degree and expertise in qualitative methods (MM) [9] and the author (LL) who holds an MD and MPH degree, and has published both qualitative and quantitative research papers [10–11]. Each reviewer independently read and re-read the open-text responses in an iterative process to identify major themes arising from the data. Once each reviewer independently listed major themes and coded the open-text responses according to those themes, both reviewers compared notes to collaboratively revise and refine the major themes identified. Once an agreed-upon final list of themes was developed, attention was turned back to the data to code the open-text response with the final list of themes. After this task was completed, LL selected salient quotes to reflect each major theme, shared the quotes with MM, and both discussed collaboratively until agreement for the final list of major themes and associated quotes was reached. The incorporation of both the qualitative and quantitative analysis allowed for a more vivid picture of parent perspectives about the friendship group dynamics and behaviors and clinician interactions than could have been obtained from just one type of analysis.

Clarification of study design, methods, and related limitations

As mentioned in the article, the study design of this research falls under descriptive research: as such, it did not assign an exposure, there were no comparison groups, and the study's output was hypothesis-generating rather than hypothesis-testing [12]. Descriptive studies often represent a first inquiry into an area of research and the findings of descriptive studies are used to generate new hypotheses that can be tested in subsequent research [12–13]. Because of the known limitations of descriptive studies, claims about causal associations cannot be made [12], and there were none made in the article. The conclusions of the current study are that the findings raise certain hypotheses and that more research is needed. Simple descriptive metrics to describe the quantitative characteristics of a sample in a descriptive study are the appropriate measures to use in this study. Additionally, because the data were collected at one point in time, no claims of cause and effect can be made.

All research methods have advantages and limitations. Obtaining information from parents (and guardians) about the health and well-being of children and adolescents is an established method of research [14]. Parental report, used elsewhere and in this study, offers the advantages of collecting data from adults who are knowledgeable about the child, who are able and willing to complete research activities such as detailed surveys, and who can provide details that are not available by other methods. Limitations of parental report include information that parents may not be aware of and parental biases. Anonymous surveys, used elsewhere and in this study, are advantageous for topics that might be stigmatized and can allow participants to be more honest in their responses but introduce the limitation that the researcher cannot verify the identity and experiences of the participants. The use of targeted recruitment and convenience samples, used elsewhere and in this study, offers the benefit of connecting with hard-to-reach populations but introduces limitations associated with selection bias that can subsequently be addressed by further studies. For the current study, selection bias may have resulted in findings that are more positive or more negative than would be found in a larger and less self-selected population. Subsequent studies should address these issues.

Updated Information about recruitment

Concerns were raised that this study only posted links to the recruitment information on selected sites that are viewed as being unsupportive of transition. However, announcements about the study included requests to distribute the recruitment information and link, and because information about where the participants encountered the announcement was not collected, it is not known which populations were ultimately reached. It has come to light that a link to the recruitment information and research survey was posted on a private Facebook group perceived to have a pro-gender-affirming perspective during the first week of the recruitment period (via snowball sampling). This private Facebook group is called “Parents of Transgender Children” and has more than 8,000 members. This means that parents participating in this research may have viewed the recruitment information from one of at least four sites with varied perspectives. Specifically, three of the sites that posted recruitment information expressed cautious or negative views about medical and surgical interventions for gender dysphoric adolescents and young adults and cautious or negative views about categorizing gender dysphoric youth as transgender. And, one of the sites that posted recruitment information is perceived to be pro-gender-affirming. The rest of the Correction notice will refer to recruitment from the four sites that are known to have posted the survey in the first week of recruitment: 4thwavenow, transgendertrend, Youth Trans Critical Professionals, and Parents of Transgender Children.

Parental approaches to gender dysphoria and views on medical interventions

To oversimplify parental approaches as simply “accepting” or “rejecting” misrepresents the range of responses and complexity of approaches that parents take when addressing the needs of their gender dysphoric children. Parental approaches are complex and cover many variables. For example, one parental approach might be to affirm the child as a person, support gender nonconformity, support gender exploration, support mental health evaluation and treatment as needed, support the exploration of potential underlying causes for the dysphoria while expressing caution about medical interventions. Another approach might be to affirm the child’s newly declared gender identity, support gender nonconformity, support a liberal approach to medical intervention while expressing caution about mental health evaluation and caution about the exploration of potential underlying causes for the dysphoria. To categorize the former as “rejecting” and the latter as “accepting” would be inaccurate.

This study recruited participants based on whether participants thought their child exhibited a sudden or rapid onset of gender dysphoria beginning during or after puberty and did not recruit based on parental beliefs about what types of approaches toward gender dysphoric AYAs are best. Although one of the sites posting recruitment information might be considered to hold a pro-gender affirming perspective and three sites might be considered to hold a cautious or even negative perspective about medical or surgical interventions, the site where a participant first heard about the study may not be an accurate reflection of their beliefs and whether they endorse or disagree with the content of the websites. Data about where participants first heard about this study were not collected. Future studies should seek a wider array of websites to post recruitment information, recruit from clinicians with varied approaches to gender dysphoria, and ask specific questions about parental beliefs regarding their approach to their child’s gender dysphoria, including: whether parents support or don’t support gender exploration, gender nonconformity, mental health evaluation and treatment, exploration of potential underlying causes for dysphoria, non-heterosexual sexual identity, and whether they hold a liberal, cautious or negative view about the use of medical and surgical interventions for gender dysphoric youth. Exploration about what types of affirmation are endorsed by parents including affirmation of the child as a person and affirmation of the child’s gender identity would also be valuable.

Expanded discussion about limitations and biases

Regarding the reporting of gender dysphoria, an absence of childhood gender dysphoria and whether the AYA was gender dysphoric at the time of survey completion were based on parent report of whether certain indicators of gender dysphoria were observed prior to puberty or at the time of the survey. These determinations were not diagnoses made by clinicians. Three of the indicators listed in the DSM-5 include information that a parent might not have access to (unless the child told them directly) [2], and therefore answers based on parent perceptions may not accurately reflect the experiences or traits of the AYAs themselves. However, the other five indicators include readily observable behaviors and preferences that would seem difficult for a parent not to notice such as: strong preference or strong resistance to wearing certain kinds of clothing; strong preference or strong rejection of specific toys, games and activities; and strong preference for playmates of the other gender [2]. It is possible that a parent could have ignored some of these indicators, though other people in the child’s life may have observed them. To improve the reliability of this measure, future studies should include evaluation from clinicians with input from parents, AYAs and from third party informants such as teachers, pediatricians, mental health professionals, babysitters, and other family members who knew the youth during childhood to verify the whether the readily observable behaviors and preferences were present or absent during childhood.

For a clinician to make a diagnosis of gender dysphoria in childhood, a child would need to exhibit at least six of the eight indicators. Given that 97.6% of the participants reported 2 or fewer readily observable indicators, even if hypothetically all participants incorrectly under-reported all three of the subtler indicators, 97.6% would still have fewer than six indicators. So, although no clinical evaluation was performed and a clear presence or absence of a diagnosis cannot be verified, given the reports of the easily observed behaviors and preferences, it can be said that it would be very unlikely for these AYAs to have met criteria for childhood gender dysphoria if they had seen a clinician for an evaluation.

There is expected variation in how objective parents can be about their own children. Some individual biases may limit the objectivity of parents. This descriptive study was not designed to explore or measure the objectivity of participants. Participants may have first learned about this study from one of four (or more) sites described previously where recruitment information was posted. It is possible that exposure to websites that take a cautious or negative approach to transition during adolescence and young adulthood and exposure to websites that take a pro-gender-affirming approach might influence how parents report about their children's experiences. There have not been any studies to determine if parents who seek information from online sites in general, don't seek information from online sites, or seek information from specific online sites, including the four sites noted for this study, differ in their ability to provide objective assessments of their children. However, if there were an excess of participants who, compared to other parents who take surveys reporting on their children, were less able to be objective about their children, it could limit some of the findings of the study, particularly for findings that are more interpretive rather than the findings that are more concrete.

The research survey did not specifically ask whether parents supported their AYAs' exploration of gender identity, so whether and what numbers of participants supported their child's exploration of gender identity is unknown. However, if there were an excess of parents who did not support the exploration of gender identity, it could potentially result in higher reports of declining mental health. The parents' perception that their child's mental health and the parent-child relationship were worse after the child announced a transgender-identification could be due to several variables such as conflict between parent and child, maladaptive coping mechanisms, or worsening psychiatric issues unrelated to gender. The trajectories for adolescent-onset gender dysphoria are not well understood and additional research is desperately needed.

There are many ways that parents can provide support for their child which include: affirming them as a unique and valuable person and as a loved member of the family; supporting their emotional and financial needs; supporting them in pursuing their interests; supporting them to develop the skills needed for self-sufficiency; supporting their choices of gender non-conforming clothing and interests; supporting their exploration of their identity; and supporting them in their critical thinking skills. Parental support is multifaceted and should not be oversimplified into a binary of whether a parent agrees or disagrees with a specific medical course. This study was not designed to measure different types of support provided by parents or levels of support. If there were an excess of parents who were unsupportive of their children, it might affect some of these initial findings. The nature and extent of parental support—including the many different ways that parents can support their children in becoming healthy, self-sufficient adults—is well worth further study.

Clarification of Fig 1

The purpose of Fig 1 was to provide the reader with a quick sense of what kinds of advice can be found and shared on Reddit and Tumblr. One example includes an excerpt from a publicly available Tumblr blog that posted a list of purported indirect signs of gender dysphoria. This excerpt is indeed an example of advice that can be found on Tumblr. Note, however, that the excerpted Tumblr post itself does not reflect the full content of the original blog it refers to, nor does the excerpt in Fig 1. The original blog is titled, “‘That was dysphoria?’ 8 signs and symptoms of indirect gender dysphoria” [15].

Discussion of the ICD-11 change from “gender dysphoria” to “gender incongruence”

The ICD-11 will go into effect in January 2022, and, with this change, the new diagnosis of “gender incongruence” will replace “gender dysphoria.” Because the current descriptive, exploratory study raises hypotheses about factors that may contribute to the onset and/or expression of gender dysphoria and concludes that more research is needed, it is unlikely that the change in diagnostic criteria will appreciably change the conclusion of the study, although the terminology may become outdated.

Coalition for the Advancement & Application of Psychological Science

CAAPS Position Statement on Rapid Onset Gender Dysphoria (ROGD)

As an organization committed to the generation and application of clinical science for the public good, the Coalition for the Advancement and Application of Psychological Science (CAAPS) supports eliminating the use of Rapid-Onset Gender Dysphoria (ROGD) and similar concepts for clinical and diagnostic application given the lack of rigorous empirical support for its existence.

There are no sound empirical studies of ROGD and it has not been subjected to rigorous peer-review processes that are standard for clinical science. Further, there is no evidence that ROGD aligns with the lived experiences of transgender children and adolescents.

Despite the lack of evidence for ROGD and its significant potential for creating harm, it has garnered increased attention in the general public and is being misused within and beyond the field of psychology. For example, recent medical articles have started including ROGD in their overview of adolescents with gender incongruence, and there has been an increase in books, videos, podcasts, and training directed to parents and clinicians offering strategies for diagnosing and treating ROGD. The proliferation of misinformation regarding ROGD is also infiltrating policy decisions. Currently, there are over 100 bills under consideration in legislative bodies across the country that seek to limit the rights of transgender adolescents, many of which are predicated on the unsupported claims advanced by ROGD. Thus, even though ROGD is not a diagnostic classification or subtype in either the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM) or the International Classification of Diseases (ICD), nor is it under consideration for inclusion in future editions, it is critical to address the misinformation regarding ROGD now.

Research on gender identity development in children and adolescents continues to evolve and these advances will likely influence diagnosis and empirically-based standards of care, as well as the legislative landscape impacting trans people's access to care and legal protections. The available research is clear that transgender people are subjected to marginalization, stigmatization, and minority stress, which have significant detrimental effects on health and well-being. Terms, such as ROGD, that further stigmatize and limit access to gender-affirming and evidence-based care violate the principles upon which CAAPS was founded and public trust in clinical science.

CAAPS supports eliminating the use of ROGD and similar concepts for clinical and diagnostic application given the lack of empirical support for its existence and its likelihood of contributing to harm and mental health burden. CAAPS also encourages further research that leads to evidence-based clinical guidelines for gender-affirming care that support child and adolescent gender identity development. CAAPS opposes trainings that encourage others to utilize this concept in their clinical practice given the lack of reputable scientific evidence to support its clinical utility. Finally, CAAPS recommends expanding community education about these topics to reduce the stigma and marginalization that contribute to mental health burden.

PSYCHOTHERAPY FOR TRANSGENDER DECLARING ADOLESCENTS

Four distinct groups

- Early onset during preschool. I have not been referred a case of early onset GD. They are very rare.
- Adolescent onset (ROGD). By far, most referrals to my practice are for young people aged 12-17, predominantly girls. This presentation will focus on this group.
- Over 18s and young adults. Unlike the bias towards females in ROGD referrals, the over 18s referred to my practice are more equally distributed between males and females. The majority are referred by parents. Their management is complicated by the fact that they are legally adults and able to make their own decisions independently of parents.
- Mature aged adults. Many present after the breakdown of their marriages with a history of long term cross-dressing and fantasies about being the other sex. Others present as single adults who have been socially transitioned for many years, having first identified as butch lesbians, and decide to finalize their transition surgically.

Intake assessment

- Family constellation, family conflict /dysfunction, marital and sibling dynamics
- Psychological evaluation – ADHD, ASD, self-harm, suicidality, suicide attempts, anxiety, depression, incipient BPD, and psychosis
- History of body dysmorphia, eating disorders
- School life experiences e.g., attitude towards school, peer rejection, bullying, truanting, academic performance, post school aspirations
- Cognitive immaturity, concrete thinking, cognitive rigidity, and cognitive distortions, lack of understanding or misunderstanding of gender ideology and capacity to critically review it (given the illogical and scientifically unsound basis of the ideology)
- Understanding of the gravity and irreversibility of medical/surgical transition; what GA treatment entails, and the consequences of treatment (e.g., infertility, sexual dysfunction, complications of cross-sex hormones and surgery, lifelong patienthood).
- Sexual experience history – sexual relationships, sexual abuse experiences, sexual knowledge, sexual anxiety
- Emerging awareness of ego dystonic sexual orientation - > internalized homophobia
- Social contagion (influence of social milieu e.g., schools, gender clinics, internet, online transgender communities)
- Perceptions and misperceptions of gender roles
- Systemic function of ROGD e.g., defiance of parents, finding an “in group,” being “seen”, denying the development of their sexed bodies, fear of adulthood, fear of sexual relationships.

TRANSITION, SELF HARM AND SUICIDALITY

The vulnerable (traumatized) part of the self is hated so it is subsumed into the omnipotent self which is the part that suppresses doubts and anxiety and presses for transition.

If the traumatized self pushes for recognition of psychic pain, the young person may resort to self-harm and suicidal ideation which is a form of acting out of their self-hatred against their bodies.

Affirming clinicians collude with the patient's own attacks on the traumatized self by "traumatizing" their bodies with cross-sex hormones and mutilating surgery.

Hope that transition will restore young person to an ideal state - medics become omnipotent creators of this ideal state. When this fails, the patient sinks into further self-hatred which is enacted through self-harming and suicidal states.

Mechanisms of social contagion

◦ Peer contagion

- has a powerful socializing effect on children beginning in the preschool years.
- By middle childhood, gender is the most important factor in the formation of peer associations, highlighting the significance of gender as an organizing principle of the norms and values associated with gender identity.
- ROGD have often experienced peer rejection, bullying, hostility and/or social isolation and hence feel marginalized from peer groups. They will gravitate to the Rainbow clubs in schools where everyone is accepted without question, especially if they declare an alternative gender, whereupon they are lauded and validated, even when they had no previous intentions to do so.

Social contagion

A very powerful phenomenon underlying the staggering increases in primarily adolescent girls declaring themselves transgender.

Social contagion identified as a mechanism in eating disorders, self harm and suicide, substance abuse, emotion, and now gender dysphoria.

Mechanisms of social contagion

- Deviancy training
 - deviant attitudes and behaviours rewarded by the peer group
- Co-rumination
 - a process of repetitive discussion, rehearsal and speculation about a problematic issue within the peer dyad.
 - Results in increases in internalizing disorders and gender confusion.
 - Girls more affected

Social contagion

A very powerful phenomenon underlying the staggering increases in primarily adolescent girls declaring themselves transgender.

Social contagion identified as a mechanism in eating disorders, self harm and suicide, substance abuse, emotion, and now gender dysphoria.

A boy has a special needs younger sister who gets all the attention. Watching his mother tend to his sister one day, he said “Mummy, you will only love me if I am a girl.”

A loved father appears to love her brother more than his daughter and spends much more time engaged in male pursuits with his son. She says, “I want to be close to Dad but he spends all his time with my brother and never with me.” She concluded it was better to be a boy and declared herself transgender. Now she is in a perpetual rage that her father does not accept her transgender identity because she feels she has nothing more to offer him.

A mother tells her pre-adolescent daughter who is described as a “tomboy” about the sexual abuse she experienced as a child by her stepfather and the sexual assaults she endured as a teenager. Her daughter formed the view that girls are unsafe in the company of men and are constantly at risk of harm particularly as they approach puberty. She decided that being a female “sucked” and that she would prefer to be a male in order to keep herself safe and strong.

A 15-y old girl has a mother who has been diagnosed with BPD. She has lived with her mother’s emotional storms and capriciousness all her life. When she has an outburst, her father says, “You have your mother’s BPD, and I don’t want to have to deal with that again.” He would then leave the house. Her father told her, “It is because you were the firstborn - the firstborn girl in Mum’s family always got the worst mental illness.” This girl formed the view that men and boys are saner than women and girls and that it would be preferable to change gender rather than turn out like her mother.

Family Constellation

Identity is not hard-wired – it develops in a social world where the young person experiences attachments, trauma, abuse, or misperceives the meaning of experiences because of cognitive immaturity or concrete thinking.

Need to explore identifications (I want to be like...) and dis-identifications (I do not want to be like...)

A 14-year-old natal boy first came out to his parents as GAY.

He soon changed that declaration to BISEXUAL when he experienced a powerful crush on a female classmate. After she rejected him, he came out as TRANS and demanded puberty blockade and cross sex hormones.

In therapy, his demands for transition were strident and incessant. He constantly asked me when I was going to tell his parents that he could go ahead with his transition.

He shaved his legs, arms and body hair, grew his hair long, and started to wear eye makeup and nail polish. He ordered female clothing from the internet and wore it secretly in his room. When his parents confiscated these clothing items, his female friends lent him their clothes to wear until I advised his parents to put a stop to this. Teachers at his school started calling him by his preferred name and pronouns until I advised his parents not to allow this.

Several months after therapy commenced, while still vehemently protesting his trans-female identity, he wrote a letter to his parents apologising for misleading them. He said he now realised that he was not a trans-female but a DEMIGIRL (denoting partial non-binary, partial female gender identity).

He changed this orientation shortly thereafter to DEMIBOY, before again writing to his parents, telling them that he was only joking about the whole thing and that they were the only people who had taken it seriously.

I advised his parents to eat humble pie to give their son the opportunity to exit the gender maze without losing face.

The next day he asked his parents to take him for a haircut. STRAIGHT

Sexual orientation

Many young people are confused about their sexual orientation and often conflate sexual orientation with gender identity.

ROMANTIC AND SEXUAL RELATIONSHIPS

Majority of young GD adolescents

- (i) have had no sexual experience (crushes from a distance, hand holding and kissing)
- (ii) disdain genital sex as “gross”
- (iii) are indifferent to loss of sexual function, fertility
- (iv) are confused about the nature of “trans” relationships e.g.,

A self-declared non-binary male (natal sex = male) in a relationship with a transgender declaring natal female (i.e., a trans man) told their parents they were in a gay male relationship. Similarly, two natal females, both transmen, rejected the suggestion that they were a lesbian couple and stated that they were a gay male couple.

Anime character against a pansexual flag

Case example: Artem, aged 15

Artem, aged 15, from a Middle Eastern country that is homophobic, was referred by his mother for a range of issues but specifically because he had declared himself transgender. He was post pubertal, facially and bodily hirsute with a deep male voice. Artem was insistent that he was transgender and was impatient to commence his social transition and to obtain prescriptions for cross sex hormones.

Of himself:

I see myself as bisexual. I have feelings for guys and girls, more like a pan-thing. I have had a boyfriend who identifies as male and pan since last year. We get together just the two of us - we visit each other's houses. I guess I would be OK with being GAY. For me, it fluctuates.

Of his mother, Artem said:

Mum knows I have this friend. She doesn't know that he is my boyfriend. I don't think Mum will take it well because she asked me if I still liked girls. She wouldn't take kindly to knowing I am gay and have a boyfriend.

Of his father, Artem said:

Dad is trying to suppress his queer phobia, but he says bad things about LGBTQ. He is anti it all; he got angry with me for refuting what he was saying. Dad said gay is about anal sex and that is gross. Then Mum told him to shut up and I went to my room and cried. Dad is anti queer for sure, he tries to suppress it because he still loves me. I felt very disappointed in Dad when he expressed these sentiments. He will be very freaked out if he thinks I am queer, gay, or trans.

Internalized homophobia

An adolescent realises that s/he is same-sex attracted. Finding this unacceptable, due to parental and/or internalized homophobia, the adolescent reasons as follows:

Being same-sex attracted is bad and shameful. My parents will reject me if I am gay. If I am a boy attracted to other boys, I must be a girl and therefore need to transition so that my attraction to boys becomes heterosexual.

Conclusions

- Imperative to keep the developmental path open into adulthood (need frontal lobe maturation that occurs in early 20s)
- Psychological trauma from the past forms part of their psychic structure in the present. The expression of these traumas are socio-culturally embedded (i.e., social contagion permits particular forms of “acting out” these traumas).
- Envy and rivalry part of human condition -> unconscious envy is a factor in trans identification
- GD adolescents need assistance to explore their defences and internal psychic conflicts and managing their psychic pain before irreparably altering their bodies. “The body is used to act out something that cannot be accepted or processed by the mind.” (Evans & Evans, 2021, Ch 2, p. 28).
- Clinicians should not collude with the phantasy that the “embodied” self can be altered or removed.

Conclusions

- Sexual development poses a threat to young people as it signifies approaching adulthood, the demands of which they feel ill equipped to manage.
- ROGD as a “trauma” or a response to the reality of puberty that one now has a sexed body.
- Rigid adherence to peer norms temporarily assuages vulnerabilities because the young person has found others like him/her who are acting out in the same way.

TRANSITION could be

- related to a grievance against the parents and a struggle for autonomy/individuation
- related to an idea that one can create an ideal self
- protective against feelings of inadequacy, anxiety, jealousy, and disappointment
- a triumph over feelings of vulnerability
- a repudiation of the sexed body and adulthood

TRANS IS NOT
